COOLIDGE IN PRAISE OF BUSINESS

President Offers Defense Of Present Conditions, Promises Prosperity

Davis May Not Win Own State; Coolidge Looks Like Winner

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 23.—John W. Davis is not conceded his own state by the Republicans. State pride, on which under ordinary circumstances there would be reliance, may help the Democratic nominee this time, but the entrance of La Follette into the lists as an invader of Democracy's ranks makes West Virginia truly doubtful.

West Virginia is not a Democratic state. It failed to follow its neighbor, Ohio, in the upset of 1916. But it probably would have been assured to its favorite son this time had there been merely a contest between Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis.

The labor vote in West Virginia is a determining factor. As a rule, it voices its protests by voting for the party out of power. John W. Davis is held in friendly regard especially since the words of cordial endorsement given him by William B. Wilson, secretary of labor in the Wilson administration.

Three-Way Split
But, while labor will divide its vote this year three ways and probably will give to Coolidge and Davis the bulk of its support, enough of it will be thrown to La Follette to diminish Davis' natural lead in his home state.

Even as few as $0,000 votes for La Follette, if most of them came from the Democratic party, would make the difference between victory and defeat for John W. Davis.

There is unquestionably throughout West Virginia a deep admiration for the personality and attainments of the Democratic nominee, but partisanship runs deeper in many instances than state pride. It is true that the last few years John Davis has been living in New York and the Republican workers are emphasizing that fact as much as possible, particularly since the sample ballots distributed contained the words "John W. Davis of New York."

VALUATIONS FOR TAXES DECLARED UNFAIR

Plan to Appoint Board of Twenty for Securing Equitable Charges

BIT OF PAPER REPOSES IN POCKET OF HUSBAND'S LAWYER

Woman Witness In Suit Over Oil Leases Tells Of Finding Portion

By H. C. CONEY

For International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—During the height of a dramatic scene within the staid courtroom of Paul J. McCormick, federal judge, Mrs. E. L. Doheny, wife of the millionaire oil magnate, who is the target of government attorneys attempting to cancel valuable leases he holds in the Elk Hills reserve, revealed that the missing portion of the famous $100,000 Doheny-Fall note, which has been the subject of a search by government operatives for the past year, reposed in the pocket of one of the attorneys in the courtroom.

The disclosure of this startling information, coming calmly, as it did, from the lips of the well-known social leader, became a stunning blow to the attorneys who had called upon her to testify against her millionaire husband.

The missing portion of the famous $100,000 Doheny-Fall note, which featured the senatorial inquiry into the leasing of naval oil reserve lands, was produced today in the court.

Woman Called
Early today Althea Pomerene, heading the government legal staff, called Mrs. E. L. Doheny, wife of the petroleum magnate to the witness stand. It was his purpose to question her regarding the "black bag" transaction, in which former Secretary of the Interior Albert Fall was given $100,000 in cash by her husband. Her appearance in the courtroom caused a dramatic scene. When called upon to take the witness stand, Pomerene turned to Doheny and asked:

"Do you have any objection to testimony we might elicit from your wife in this case pending against you?"

The question was asked in conformity with a rule of law which reserves the right of a wife to testify against her husband.

Husband Willing
Doheny informed the court that he did not object to Mrs. Doheny's appearance as a witness for the prosecution, and she walked slowly to the witness chair.

The first question asked her by Pomerene was:

"Mrs. Doheny, do you know what became of the missing portion of the note given your husband by Mr. Fall in 1921 in consideration of a purported loan of $100,000?"

"Yes," Mrs. Doheny answered. Pomerene seemed startled by the unexpected answer and paused a few moments before resuming his questioning.

"Do you know where it is now?"

"Why, it's in Mr. Hogan's pocket," she replied, referring to Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for Doheny.

Finds 'Paper'
Asked to tell of circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the note, Mrs. Doheny said:

"I was going through some papers in a safety deposit box at a Los Angeles bank when I found the piece of paper."

She said she spoke to her husband about it and told him where it was. Under further questioning she related how the note became torn.

Mrs. Doheny declared that the signature of Mr. Fall was deliberately torn off the note in the New York apartment of the Dohensys shortly after the document had been executed.

This was done, she said, after Doheny had declared that he did not want the note to be found if "anything happened to him." She said her husband gave her the part bearing Fall's signature and Arthur Brisbane, the high-salaried and high-powered free lance for the Hearst papers is out with the declaration that California is safe for Coolidge. It is devoutly to be hoped his prognostication will prove to be correct, but don't let this or any other "good news" have the effect of slowing down the campaign to give Coolidge 100,000 majority in this state. The fluke in California in 1916 decided the result in the nation. It may possibly require the 13 votes of this state in the electoral college this year to prevent the election of the president and vice president from being thrown into Congress. That would be a calamity scarcely less disastrous to business prosperity than the outright election of La Follette.

Our neighbor, Julius Kranz, informs us that the name La Follette is a french derivative which, in the native tongue, means "foolish." We are willing to let it go at that.

Due to the frailties of human nature the most frequently violated of the injunctions of the Great Master is, "Judge not lest ye be judged." That President Coolidge did not lose his equipoise during the fog and furor raised at Washington last winter was due largely to his disinclination to violate this injunction and adjudge men to be criminals on mere allegations made by unscrupulous witnesses coached by partisans equally unscrupulous. He set an example in those stormy days that all of us well emulate. It's worth much to the country to have a well balanced man in the White House who can not be "swept off his feet" in times of stress and storm. One of the objects sought to be attained by the framers of the Constitution was declared in its preamble to be "to insure domestic tranquility." Haven't we had enough of strife and confusion and turmoil during the past few years without inviting a continuance of disorder and encouraging bolshevistic propaganda all of which is aimed at the fundamentals of our government?

It is inconceivable to the ordinary man with any sort of memory that the name of La Follette should make the remotest appeal to any veteran of any war or to any person whose loyalty to his country is above suspicion. We must admit, however, that there are some such people, but the fact is, nevertheless, incomprehensible to "the man in the street." Fortunately their number probably is not sufficient to affect the final result and thus they will be saved from the effects of their own folly.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

Winery production in California will be probed, according to telegraphic dispatches from San Francisco.

One rises to inquire why—if this be a dry nation—winery production is permitted. Certainly, it is not for export, when both France and Italy can produce more rare wines at less cost.

No doubt the wine is converted into many medicinal (?) tonics on sale at practically every drug store and purchased by those who are accustomed to have their port and sherry after every meal. Or this vast amount of wine may be used by churches in more or less constant communion with the spirits, such as the Rosikrucian is alleged to have been.

Two attorneys complain of court actions—cases which should be settled out of court—crowding the calendars.

A Los Angeles woman attorney says there are too many courts and too many lawyers. Another lawyer states "it is a pity people can file in a court of justice unfounded charges" which even attorneys give up in despair during the trial.

Inasmuch as these conditions apply locally, one does wonder by what right our legal machinery proceeds to make life miserable for the public personage, particularly an officerholder.

Attorneys in accepting cases should hold high regard for those against whom attacks are launched. Otherwise great injustice will be worked, as was evidenced in the case against Police Chief John D. Fraser.

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has attempted a worthy task—that of protecting the public here from unscrupulous promoters. However, with Los Angeles close by, it will be perfectly easy for the gullible residents to lose everything they have without going far to do so.

It is a hopeless job trying to keep people from being hornswoggled out of their hard earned dollars.

Yes, by golly, we have some oil stock ourselves! Somebody arises to inquire why the Coolidge caravan went through Glendale without stopping Tuesday afternoon.

And the caravan members want to know why Burbank didn't greet them.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Oct. 23.—"A skyline drive along the crest of the Verdugo Hills from Glendale to Tujunga and Sunland would benefit the entire section." C. C. Buck, secretary of the Tujunga Valley Realty Board thus expressed the official opinion of the board, as given at this week's meeting. M. V. Hartman was the principal speaker and said he believes the plan, launched recently by property owners, is the best way to open and develop the Verdugo Hills section. In the opinion of various members, the plan of the Verdugo Hills crestline association formed by interested property owners, could positively do the section, Tujunga in particular, no harm, leaving everything to be gained and nothing to be lost. It was pointed out that the bonding necessary for such a big undertaking can not be accomplished by Tujunga.

A multiple listing board was created at the last meeting, the officers being: George Aiken, president; Clarence C. Buck, vice president; Leon Harvey, secretary.

Secretary Buck reported on the meeting of realty board secretaries and outlined plans proposed at that time, which call for local centralized clearing houses, controlled by local realtors, where the activities of realtors could be centered. Building and loan or similar organization was recommended. A resolution expressing sorrow in the passing of Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was adopted and an appropriation of $10 made toward a fund for perpetuating his memory in a sculpture bust of the late secretary. An official delegation from the local realty board will attend the funeral.

Over $300 has been placed in the proposed athletic club building fund. A temporary building 50x80 feet is planned to be erected on El Centro street property owned by the local American Legion post. The building will cost $2000. Junior and senior divisions will be formed. An effort is being made to form a woman's auxiliary.

The executive committee of the community church J. O. C. class recently was entertained with a Japanese style luncheon at the home of Dr. Stella Connor of Marshall street. A business and social meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Green on North Stevens Way. Mrs. Fraser, 213 North Pine street, will be hostess at a Halloween social for the J. O. C. class and friends on the night of October 23. Eight members have planned to attend the J. O. C. convention October 25 and 26 at Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. Montague Jephcott and Miss Margaret Barlow were recently entertained at dinner by Dr. Nina Jolidon Croake.

H. I. Farr has traded a ranch near Turlock for a dry goods store and other property in Tujunga, formerly owned by Lloyd Foster.

New seats have been placed in the new rooms of the grammar school and the kindergarten rooms have been fitted with tables. The Tujunga Undertaking Co. has sold the business to Brown & White, the latter being Mrs. Mark White, president of the Tujunga Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Abernathy are parents of a newly arrived daughter.

Movie Star Insists On Hollywood Jam While In New York

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 23.—There are many things in favor of Hollywood as a motion picture center, the same as there are for Southern California being the home of the wealthy.

Estelle Taylor, in New York, discovered a most important reason—and that is gastronomic, if you please. She wired her housekeeper to send her some California made preserves.

In Pasadena, Santa Barbara, San Diego and Los Angeles many retired housekeepers are earning a competence by making jams and jells, inquiry has revealed. Here film stars are good patrons of such local industry.

L. H. WILSON FOR CIVIC CENTER

Big Property Owner Takes Issue With Statements By C. W. Ingledue

L. H. Wilson is not against the civic center bond issue. In the Glendale Evening News yesterday he was quoted, in the story concerning the Glendale Realty board meeting, as being opposed to the project. C. W. Ingledue spoke against the project and the story made it appear that Mr. Wilson, also, was in opposition. However, Mr. Wilson has been and is for the civic center, as the following communication shows, it being a resume of Mr. Wilson's remarks at yesterday's meeting:

"Editor The Evening News—I wish to take issue with Mr. Ingledue on some of his statements. I am personally not interested in any section of the city, north, south, east, or west, as my property is in the suburban section calls for rural service extension.

WHY A SUPREME COURT

The Constitution of the United States recognizes the people as the source of power, and distributes the functions of government into three grand divisions—legislative, judicial and executive, each with its prerogatives and its limitations clearly defined. To cripple or limit the powers of any of these three departments as outlined by the Constitution would be tantamount to a change in our form of government.

There are defects in our government, or rather in the way it is administered, and this will always be true of any government, for human beings are subject to faults and mistakes.

Our legislative department has not always been above reproach. The last Congress was severely criticized. The idea is prevalent throughout the country that Congress, as a whole, is neither efficient nor intelligent, and none too honorable. We take it almost as a matter of course that a representative or senator should allow the coming election to influence his judgment, that he should allow personal expediency to come before the good of the country.

And yet, no one has suggested that we do away with our law making body or limit its powers.

The people of the United States have not always shown the greatest wisdom in the choice of a president. At least, there is always a difference of opinion. Some of our presidents have been censured and denounced. They have not always done what was for the best interests of the country.

But, there has been no thought of doing away with the executive department of our government. We must have a head, a leader, although he is subject to the limitations and faults of a human being.

The supreme court stands between the legislative body and the people. The Constitution gives the people and the states certain rights. When a legislature passes an unconstitutional statute, that body is usurping the power of the people and the supreme court, in refusing to enforce such a statute, is giving effect to the popular will.

The supreme court judges are chosen for their intelligence, their learning and their experience in interpreting the law. However, they, too, are men, and fallible. They do not always agree, and more than once they have handed down decisions that seemed to some of us unwise, and disappointed many who would have liked to see grievous wrongs righted. But, there is no evidence that their interpretations have not been made conscientiously. These men are unprejudiced, their decisions are made calmly, not in the excitement in which some laws are passed by Congress, they are untrammelled by hope or fear of the next election.

And yet, it is suggested that we curb the power of this court, that we make it subservient to Congress, which is virtually doing away with it, for, if the supreme court does not have the final decision, it is a useless and superfluous body.

Defending the Constitution of the United States, George Wharton Pepper, in The Forum, says: "Reviewing the history of the United States, two facts stand out. One is that our government alone among the greater nations of the world, has, during the last 135 years, retained its unchanged form. The other is that our national prosperity and happiness have, during the same period, exceeded that of any other nation."

POLITICS MAKES ENEMIES

Political campaigns bring out differences of opinion, and sometimes cause enmities. No two human beings are constituted exactly alike, so it is not strange that we should take different sides during any contest or controversy. The remarkable thing is, that during a campaign like the present, even though a good many are not entirely satisfied with the candidate and the platform they intend to support, the great majority of the people of the country are assembled in three groups.

Good natured arguments about politics or anything else are instructive, as a rule, but to quarrel and grow angry because another does not think as you do, is foolish and puerile. The man who makes enemies because he takes a certain stand, which he believes to be right, is not at fault, and cannot be injured by those who malign him. The man who is not entirely negative, the one who wins the slightest measure of success, will always make enemies. The only creature without enemies is the human jelly-fish.

Stand for what you believe to be right, no matter who hates you or boycotts you for it. The only way to please everyone is to stand for everything which means standing for nothing. Even then some would hate you. Believe that an interest in politics is evidence that the country is awake, and be glad that this is so, no matter if everyone does not agree with your opinions. Our colonists recognized the right of freedom of thought, and if we deny this right to others, we brand ourselves as a couple of hundred years behind the times.

THE DEATH ROLL

Almost every day we read of the toll of dead in auto accidents. The victims are strangers to us, and we give little heed to the incident, other than to say, "Wasn't that awful?" if the accident were particularly gruesome. Unless we have seen a similar accident, we do not realize what a dreadful thing it is that a life should be snuffed out through some one's carelessness, for most of these accidents are the result of carelessness.

But The Chicago Tribune brought vividly before its readers a few weeks ago the story of the automobile death toll by publishing on one page the pictures of victims of auto accidents in Chicago for the first nine months of this year. There are little babies, children, hopeful young girls, youths on the threshold of a useful life, men and women in their prime, old men and women, fathers and mothers of families. And as we look we cannot but ask ourselves: "Who and how many will be added to this picture when the last three months of 1924 have passed?"

The Tribune thinks this an awful tax to pay for the benefits of the automobile, and goes on to say: "Reckless driving must be curbed by severe punishment. That is up to the courts and juries. The police are not responsible for penalties. The magistrates and the public, in the last analysis, are responsible for them. With a determined public opinion, sooner or later, pull will be defeated and certainty of punishment put a stop to inconsiderate motoring, at least on the present scale."

It's human to err; that's why they sell accident insurance.

SPEAKING OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

Is Life Worth Living?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A side light has been thrown upon the important question, whether life is worth living or not, by the recent experiments of Professor Flugel. No one can resist statistics, and, in the wealth of arguments on the question, it is refreshing to have some solid facts.

The professor selected nine men to walk about with notepaper for a month in a comparatively unpleasant atmosphere. I do not know what, and note, all the time, their feeling of pleasure and displeasure.

To sum of the whole of the results they came out pretty well on the ordeal. Of their experiences, 67.72 per cent were pleasant and only 32.28 per cent unpleasant. One of the group spent 1 1/2 per cent of his time in a state of pure ecstasy. He does not say whether this was due to eating, drinking, making love or reading poetry. The gloomiest of them was happy 46 per cent of the time and unhappy 54 per cent.

One result of the test was noteworthy; the professor discovered that those who experience the extremes of happiness or dejection are, on the whole, the unhappiest. This is merely another way of saying that those who were incapable of feeling any deep emotion suffer less than those who feel deeply.

The ability to suffer pain is the cutting edge of the ability to enjoy pleasure and, as a rule, those who enjoy things the most are those who suffer other things the most. Their happiness or unhappiness is due to their ability to receive impressions.

Every man has looked at the lower creatures, including all animals and some human beings, and envied them because their general level of happiness seems to be above his own and they do not have the times of depression which he experiences. But we should remember that the ability to enjoy is in direct proportion to our ability to suffer and, if we enjoy anything keenly, that is proof that we can suffer keenly.

Whether on the whole it is better to have such a calm disposition that we can neither suffer nor enjoy is a question that the reader will have to settle for himself.

The human being seems to require a certain average. If he goes below it he must go above it, and vice versa.

One lesson we may learn from all this is that self-restraint makes for long life and a general average of happiness. That is, those who restrain themselves from giving way too much in the one direction are those who will not be called upon to suffer in the other direction.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1888 Cleveland was the first Democratic president since the Civil war; his administration had been successful; it was just and natural that he should be renominated, and the Democratic convention of June, 1888, meeting in St. Louis, did renominate him by acclamation. Allen G. Thurman of Ohio was nominated for vice president. Thurman had been a member of Congress, judge and chief justice of the supreme court of his state, governor and United States senator, chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, father of the "Thurman act" requiring the Pacific railroads to keep faith with the government, commissioner to the International Monetary conference of 1881 and candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in the three preceding conventions of the party.

The Republican convention meeting in Chicago in June, nominated Benjamin Harrison of Indiana for president and Levi P. Morton of New York, a banker and former Minister to France, for vice president. It had been generally thought that John Sherman would get the nomination. But Russell A. Alger, afterwards secretary of war under McKinley, was also aspirant and many of the southern delegates upon whom Sherman had counted were diverted to Alger. Blaine's name was put forward; but he sent a cablegram from Europe withdrawing it. Eighteen candidates were voted for: Harrison, whose vote had steadily increased, was nominated on the eighth ballot. He was a lawyer who had served with credit as a soldier of the Civil war, and as senator from his state; the grandson of President William H. Harrison and great grandson of Benjamin Harrison, the "signer." There were two Labor parties.

The Union Labor party nominated Alton J. Streeter of Illinois and Samuel Evans of Texas; the United Labor party Robert H. Cowdrey of Illinois and W. H. T. Wakefield of Kansas. The convention of this latter party was, in reality, a convention of "single taxers" devoted to the Henry George theory and the platform was prepared by Dr. McGlynn of New York. They polled less than 1500 votes at election. Clinton B. Fisk of New Jersey was the nominee of the Prohibitionists with John A. Brooks of Missouri as his running-mate. An attempt to put a ticket in the field representing the old American party came to nothing.

The campaign was earnest, but decorous. Of the popular vote Harrison had 5,439,853; Cleveland 5,540,329; Fisk 249,505; Streeter 146,935. Harrison had 233 electoral votes; Cleveland 168. The lukewarmness of Tammany toward Cleveland—and a curious vote on Coney Island—lost Cleveland the electoral vote of New York which was necessary to his success and thus, though leading in the popular vote, he was defeated.

Horoscope

Once more kindly stars smile on the earth, according to astrology. Mercury, the Sun and Saturn are all in benefic aspect. It is a day to seek any sort of employment or any kind of political pledge.

Generosity and the spirit of helpfulness should distinguish persons in places in the Sun, so it is well to seek favors or positions from them.

There is a promising sign for dealing with men and women and making for spirited trade. Both buying and selling should be lucky today.

Again newspapers and periodicals should profit, but there is a sign indicating combinations that eliminate many dailies and weeklies.

Mercury is read as presaging that one or two editors will gain great power and that there will be increase of popularity for a few who represent progress.

Saturn appears to give promise of prosperity for farmers and there should be better market conditions in the coming year.

Food prices are to be high all through the coming winter and there may be much suffering among the poor of the cities.

Astrologers warn that the utmost foresight in the management of domestic affairs should be practiced by Americans, who will reap of the whirlwind of extravagance.

Educational matters are subject to a rule making for the utmost interest in college work. There will be an unusual number of brilliant students in the universities and girls will make fine records, it is prophesied.

Art should have an impetus this autumn, for there is to be an interest in sculpture that is keener than in recent years.

Persons whose birth date it is should avoid travel and changes in business there may be many annoyances, but prosperity is indicated.

Children born on this day have the augury of great good fortune all through life. These subjects of Scorpio usually have will power and determined purpose which insure success.

Today's Poem

I think about God.
Yet I talk of small matters.
Now isn't it odd
How my idle tongue chatters!
Of quarrelsome neighbors,
Fine weather and rain,
Indifferent labors,
Indifferent pain,
Some trivial style
Fashion shifts with a nod.
And yet all the while
I am thinking of God.

Mrs. M. E. Smith, mother of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, is moving from Los Angeles to her attractive bungalow, 123 South Orange street.

Sunday was the celebration of laying the cornerstone of the Providence Congregational church, Echo Park road and Morton avenue, Edendale. Donations of cash or personal services were asked and two days this week will find Dr. E. H. Willisford tolling in the hot sun as a day carpenter.

Governor Hiram Johnson is to speak in the high school Wednesday night, October 28.

Pat was on trial before a jury of his local peers.

"Now," said the prosecutor, "tell the jury where you were on the night of September the 10th."

Who's Who

Prince Paul of Serbia, who is about to be appointed "Ban" or Viceroy of Croatia as part and parcel of Serbia's new policy of decentralization, is not the son of King Alexander, but his first cousin, and next in line to the twelve months' old Crown Prince Peter, in the line of succession to the Serbian throne. He is very rich through his Russian mother, who was one of the wealthiest members of the great Russian house of Demidoff and, thanks to her relatives, was brought up entirely in England, is a graduate of Oxford and is one of the most popular of continental royalties in the English great world.

He served with distinction throughout the great war, and then when it was over returned to Oxford to get the finishing touches of his course there, and is married to Princess Olga of Greece, the pretty daughter of Prince Nicholas of Greece and of his fascinating Russian wife, who was the Grand Duchess Helene Vladimirovna.

It may be remembered that the Duke of York acted as Prince Paul's best man at the wedding at Belgrade a year ago, when the widowed Queen Sophia of Greece suddenly appeared uninvited upon the scene, where her presence led to the premature departure of some of the royal guests and to savage attacks upon her as unwelcome in all the various organs of the Serbian press.

Prince and Princess Paul have spent the greater part of the past summer at the English royal palace known as the White Lodge, in Richmond Park, which had been lent to them by the Duke and Duchess of York and it was there that their little boy was born some weeks ago, the christening being attended by the infant's great grandmother, the octogenarian ex-Queen Olga of Greece.

It is understood that, when the new policy of decentralization of the kingdom of Jugoslavia has been completed by Premier Davidovitch, Prince Paul, and his consort will establish their home at Agram, which is the capital of Croatia and which is also known as Zagreb, and will hold vice-regal court there.

Material for this series was gathered by Mr. Hall on a tour of 6000 miles through Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. The next article of the series to appear in The Glendale Evening News will be: "Upsets Add Interest to Campaign."

XI—THEY SING 'HERE COMES THE KLAN'

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

While the Democrats in New York are singing about the sidewalks of that metropolis, the Democrats of Oklahoma are singing a different tune. This "hymn of hate" is being sung in other states with just as much feeling and excitement as in the Sooner State.

They are trying to turn the well known wedding march into a White House march for Davis and Bryan and instead of singing "Here Comes the Bride," they break forth with "Here Comes The Klan." The Klan is the big issue in Oklahoma this year, just the same as it is in Texas and Colorado and other states.

But the fight does not center around the race for governor as it does in either Texas or Colorado. It centers about the battle for United States senator, with that noted figure of Oklahoma history—Jack Walton—as the storm center.

Still in Politics
Jack Walton, whose activities while governor of Oklahoma were heralded throughout the entire United States, did not quit the political game when the Oklahoma courts ousted him from office. He is back in politics this year and fighting for victory just as hard as he fought to retain his governorship.

Oklahoma is generally Democratic, but the state sent a Republican to Congress at the last election. Observations made in that state recently by the writer tend to indicate that Oklahoma will do the same thing this election, but for a different reason.

The reason is the Klan. Walton openly fought the Klan when he was in office, and when Walton announced his intention of running for Congress this year, the Klan started a fight against him that will be settled at the polls on November 4.

Is Doubtful State
In the presidential race Oklahoma is considered one of the seventeen doubtful states. Past records show that Oklahoma has always "joined the gang" at election time, climbing on the band wagon and riding on the crest of the wave of popularity. There has been one exception, however, and that was in 1908, when Oklahoma gave William Jennings

Bryan a bigger vote than it did Taft.

La Follette is not conceded much of a chance in Oklahoma, according to observations in that state. He will muster a number of votes, many of them coming from the Republican ranks and some from the Democrats. Such cities as Oklahoma City, Enid, Tulsa, Muskogee and McAlester are expected to give La Follette a fairly heavy vote as these cities are the principal railroad and oil field centers with a large percentage of labor population.

State's Past Record
Oklahoma was admitted to the Union as a state on November 16, 1907. During the territorial days the rule of a territorial governor holding office for four years was established, and as a state the same rule held over. Thus it was that the first election for governor under the state rule did not come until 1910, when a Democratic candidate was chosen.

The Democrats held sway in 1914 in the gubernatorial race, turned in 1918, when J. B. A. Robertson was elected. Robertson polled 104,132 votes while his Republican candidate received only 82,865.

It was in 1922 that Jack Walton was elected governor to succeed Robertson. Fields was the Republican candidate for the office. The vote showed 230,304 for Walton and 230,417 for Fields.

Presidential Voting
Records show that in 1908, the first chance Oklahoma had to vote for president after being admitted to the Union, the majority of them still believed William Jennings Bryan had a chance to get into the White House. Bryan received 122,406 votes, while the best Taft could muster was 110,558.

A larger majority was given Woodrow Wilson in 1912, although the total number of votes cast by the Republicans and Democrats in that campaign fell below the figures for 1908. Wilson received 119,156 votes, and Taft got 90,786.

The vote for president in 1916 was heavier. Wilson received 148,115. Hughes and the Republican party picked up approximately 8,000 more votes than Taft and the party did in 1912. Hughes getting 98,299.

The banner year for the Republicans in Oklahoma was in 1920. Harding received 243,464 votes from residents of the Sooner state, while Cox ran him a close second with 215,808. This total vote of 459,272, was exceeded in 1922 in the gubernatorial race when 510,721 votes were cast for the two candidates, Walton and Fields.

GRAY CAR GIVEN GAS TEST PRIZE

Touring Model Covers 34.54 Miles on Gallon as Entry In Tournament

Joseph Sterba of Sheldon, Tex., driving a Gray touring car, was awarded first prize in the National Conservation tournament, with a mileage record of 34.54 miles per gallon of gas. Sixteen other drivers of Gray cars in this contest turned in averages of better than thirty miles per gallon, on tours that ranged from 500 to 2000 miles. Judges of the contest claim no other American automobile has had as many entries in any one contest deliver such economy records.

The tournament was held in the interest of gasoline and oil conservation and summer touring. It opened on July 20 and closed September 20. Sterba traveled 1516 miles of country road and western mountains in seventeen days, with four passengers and 350 pounds of camping outfit, using forty-three gallons of gasoline, or an average of 35.54 miles per gallon, and three pints of oil. Transportation cost for the trip was $7.47.

The Gray car is handled in Glendale by the Valley Auto Co., 1131 South Brand boulevard.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

DESTINED TO BE FAT?

"Dear Doctor: I am destined to be fat, I think, for I have been fat all my life, and I have tried everything—medication, exercises, massage and dieting, but I have not counted my calories. I am going to give your method a trial, as I have heard so much about it."

"A friend, way over in China, wrote me of your good work. How happy you must be to be able to help so many.—Mrs. L."

Well, now we are going to show you that you are not destined to be fat. The reason you did not reduce before is because you did not count your calories. You thought you dieted, but you must have been getting many more calories than you needed.

The instructions were sent you if you followed the rules of the column, i. e., enclosed s. a. s. e. and 10 cents in stamps.

Yes, indeed, I am happy. I am especially happy that those who have benefited are spreading the glad tidings far and wide that excess weight is not inherited, and that it is not necessary. By teaching the prevention and cure of overweight, I am doing much to prevent diabetes, heart, kidney and intestinal diseases and a score of other disorders, not to mention taking a little chunk out of the H. C. L.

SLEEPY AFTER DINNER

E. S.: The cause of feeling sleepy a little while after dinner is because there is a lessening of the volume of blood in the brain due to the extra amount being sent to the digestive organs. That is the theory, anyway. Sleepiness is especially noticeable after over-eating. Are you getting enough sleep at night in a well ventilated room? Are you overweight or anemic? These conditions will cause sleepiness at unseasonable hours. We have also constipation and antiointoxicant articles on the latter.

WARTS

Miss E.: Warts seem to be of a slightly infectious nature. We know that they will spread from one part of the hands to other parts. They are quite common in childhood. There are many things that will remove them. You might try some of the following: After thoroughly scrubbing the hands, two or three times a day, rub baking soda on them. Potato juice will remove them in some cases. Take a large-sized potato and cut off a fresh slice each day and rub it on the warts. (It is the potassium salt of the potato that does the work.) Sometimes painting once a day with iodine is effective. Warts in a position on the body to be irritated should be removed, for they are possible sources of cancer.

ACID MOUTH

Mrs. C.: An acid mouth may indicate a so-called acidosis of the whole system. You are ten to fifteen pounds underweight, and probably you have more or less of a starvation acidosis.

Rinse your mouth with milk of magnesia, three or four times a day. Send for our article on acidosis and also for the pamphlet on reducing and gaining. Don't forget to enclose a good-sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in stamps with your request.

W. H.: You must see an eye specialist. I think your condition is an operative one.

PROTRUDING EARS

Mrs. W.: You can get tape caps in the baby departments of large stores. I prefer the adhesive tape kept on constantly. When you change put the next one on a little lower or higher.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice as possible; if they are of general interest, I will answer them in the column as soon as I can. If you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Housekeeper reader has written me to ask for some good recipes for using left-over chicken. She says: "I would like to know of some attractive ways to use cold cooked chicken, for Monday's dinner, after we serve it for Sunday dinner." The following will be found delectable:

Chicken Wiggle: Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan.

rub into it two tablespoons of flour, and a pinch each of salt and pepper, then gradually add two cups of sweet milk. Let this sauce simmer for a few minutes, till thickened, then add two cups of diced cooked chicken, three-fourths of a cup of boiled rice and one-half cup of cooked peas (the canned variety may be used after being simmered for 15 minutes). Let cook for 20 minutes over boiling water, then turn out on slices of toast and serve at once.

Chicken Loaf: Heat three-fourths of a cup of sweet milk, then put into it one and one-half cups of soft bread crumbs and let cook for five or six minutes. Turn this mixture into a bowl with three cups of minced cooked chicken, one-half teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, one teaspoon of minced parsley, one-half teaspoon of onion juice, or one-half teaspoon of finely minced raw onion may be used instead of juice; two tablespoons of butter, and the yolks of three eggs well beaten. Mix all together, then fold in three stiffly-whipped egg whites and turn the mixture into a buttered mould. Set the mould in a shallow pan containing hot water and slip the two into a moderate oven to bake for 45 minutes or till firm. This may be served either hot or cold.

Italian Minced Chicken: This recipe requires three-quarters of a cup of canned mushrooms. (If fresh mushrooms are used, separate the caps from the stems and cut the stems in pieces). Fry the mushrooms in butter (using about four tablespoons of butter), seasoning them with a pinch of pepper and one-fourth teaspoon of salt. Add the stems and fry these five minutes, then add one teaspoon of minced raw onion, four tablespoons of flour, and two cups of either freshly stewed, or canned, tomatoes. Let boil for five minutes, then serve on hot toast.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

LOST, FOUND BUREAU FOR MOTORIST

Automobile Club Endeavors To Return Lost Articles To Rightful Owners

Every motorist, whether resident or visitor in Southern California, has an interest in the lost and found department just inaugurated by the Automobile Club of Southern California. With more than half a million cars constantly in use on 15,000 miles of highway it is supposed that a large number of articles will be lost. To reduce to a minimum those unrecovered, the auto club has established a lost and found department under the direction of Arthur C. Davis, which will undertake the big job of restoring all articles found to their rightful owners.

Possibilities for covering all this part of the state and high efficiency in the department are realized through auto club branches in twenty-nine Southern California cities, where found articles may be turned in and held for a time awaiting claimants. There also is a fleet of highway patrol service cars constantly passing over the main traveled highways. Drivers of these cars always are on the alert and turn in the articles of wearing apparel, equipment and similar things dropped by passing cars.

Many Articles Found
The lost and found service plans to hold these articles for identification at the branch office nearest where they are picked up. Should claimants not appear within a reasonable time, the lost articles are sent to the club headquarters in Los Angeles where they are tagged, labeled and held indefinitely.

An astonishing collection of articles is constantly on hand at club headquarters. These articles have been picked up by members, employees, highway patrol drivers, tow car drivers, sign-posting truck men and others, and consist of brooches, bar-pins, overcoats, gloves, glasses, tire gauges, handkerchiefs, rings, rosaries, shawls, and samples of virtually every article carried by motoring parties. It is believed this department will not only be of real service to members, but to every motorist in this section who may experience the misfortune of losing something while traveling.

Germans Produce Charcoal Gas to Run Automobiles

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 22.—According to word received by Firestone export officials, Berlin automotive experts have successfully experimented with gas produced by charcoal as the automotive power for buses.

A brazier composed of two steel cylinders about two feet in diameter and four feet high is placed near the driving seat and the gas produced by combustion is led directly through a large bore feed pipe into the cylinders. No carburetor or other mixing valve is required.

Besides being said to be far more economical than gasoline, charcoal throws off no smoke or quick poisonous fumes.

Traffic Committee To Handle Crowds Picked

As a result of the efficient work done by the special committee in charge of traffic when the world flyers returned to Clover Field, it is planned to make this committee a permanent organization for taking charge of traffic on all occasions when extraordinary measures are necessary. The matter of handling the traffic was placed under the direction of the Automobile Club of Southern California, with Carl E. McStay of the club as chairman. Chief traffic officers of Los Angeles city and county and Santa Monica were enrolled as members of the committee and 114 officers were used in addition to 1,500 temporary direction signs.

It is believed that making this committee a permanent institution will do much toward solving the more intricate traffic problems that are presented in this section from time to time. The advisability of such a committee is suggested by the fact that there is one automobile for every three persons in this part of California, making it the most thickly populated motor car district in the world.

Releasing Clutch on Downgrade Harmful

It is considered better practice not to release the clutch on downgrades. Not only do you get better and safer braking power with clutch engaged, but you prevent injury to the clutch mechanism. It is better not to drive with clutch depressed unless absolutely necessary.

JACKRABBIT TRAIL NOW IS OPEN

18-Foot Oil Bound Road Of Macadam Over 7 Miles Completes Highway

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—News for the motorist! The Jackrabbit Trail is again open. Improved with an eighteen-foot oil bound macadam surface over seven miles of hills separating Moreno valley and the San Geronimo pass the link completes the paving of Riverside's highway to Coachella, home of the date.

The Jackrabbit trail follows into Blythe on the transcontinental route and is the most popular highway to the Imperial valley. It offers a scenic route to the motorist and it winds around picturesque hills, a part of the San Jacinto range.

Next on Program
The Beaumont-Redlands road, which has been used while the paving was in progress, is the next road to be improved in Riverside county, giving greater access to the Yucaipa, Coachella, Palo Verde and Imperial valleys through rich orchard and ranch lands.

Maintenance work began this week on the Mecca-Blythe road, with the exception of Box canyon, according to advices received at the state highway commission offices here from E. Q. Sullivan, division engineer.

For those who visit Orange county, particularly those who use trucks and trailers, there is more news. Captain H. S. Warner of the state motor police there announced he will have drivers into court for failing to observe the following warnings:

Rules to Remember
Don't pull a trailer unless it has license plates on it, or unless the license plates have been ordered.

Give all signals at the proper time and give them correctly.

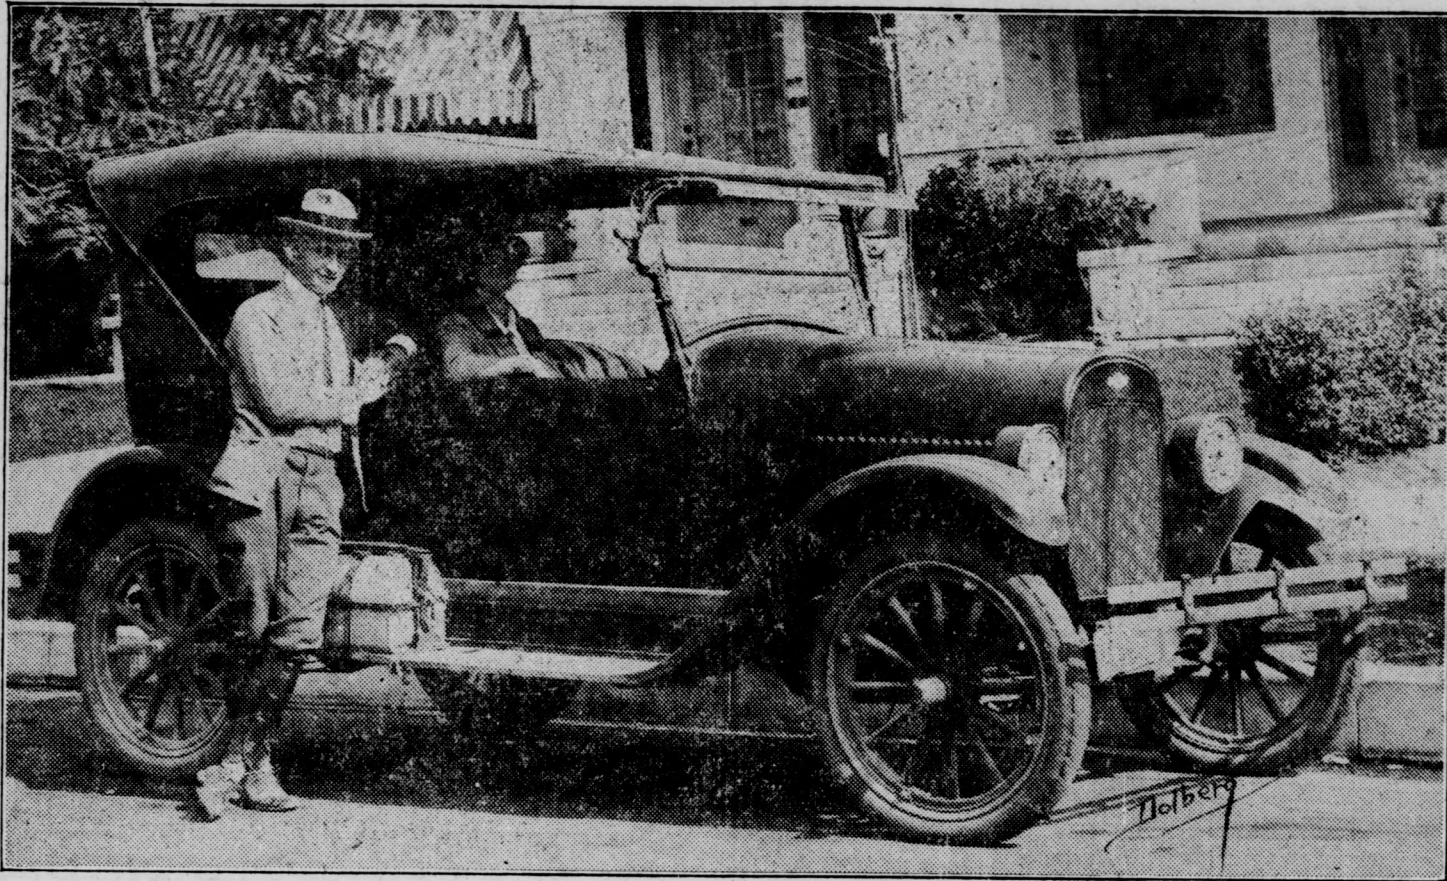

Drive to one side of the road and stop as quickly as you can when a police or fire siren is heard.

Captain Warner commented on lax way in which motorists signal for turning or stopping, if they signal at all. He urges drivers not acquainted with signals to take a course before they venture into Orange county.

Average purchasing power of people of India is now only $10 a year.

Chevrolet Makes Remarkable Record

Picture shows R. W. Hampton and wife of Glendale snapped in their Chevrolet after a transcontinental trip of 4000 miles made without mechanical trouble. They spent their honeymoon touring the New England states, driving in all about 3000 miles in that section. The Chevrolet is handled in Glendale by C. L. Smith.

After a transcontinental trip of 4,000 miles, made in his Chevrolet car, R. W. Hampton, engaged in the dump trucking business here, is back in Glendale accompanied by his bride of two months.

Hampton left Glendale the latter part of July for Amhurst, Mass., arriving at his destination seven days later. He was married to Miss Lyle Chandler the day after his arrival.

The young couple spent their honeymoon touring the New England states before returning to Glendale. They drove about 3000 miles in that territory. They shipped their Chevrolet from New York to Los Angeles by way of the Panama Canal, and returned here by rail.

Only one mishap during the entire trip was encountered, Hampton reports. This was when another auto, unable to get out of the sand tracks, skidded into his front wheel in Nebraska. It was necessary to walk six miles to the nearest town for assistance. Aside from this accident, Hampton had no trouble at all. He took the Lincoln highway by way of Salt Lake on the trip east. Hampton is a strong Chevrolet booster, stating he believed it to be the best car for the money. The Chevrolet is handled in Glendale by C. L. Smith.

IMPERIAL ROAD GIVING CONCERN

Com. Edwards Reports Experimental Highway Is Being Constructed

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Commissioner N. T. Edwards of the Los Angeles office of the California State Highway commission and a resident of Orange, has just completed an inspection tour of Holtville-Yuma road in the Imperial valley.

There are six miles across the sand hills to be completed which are providing a real problem for the engineers, he stated. An experimental road 2000 feet long is being built which might be called a concave asphalt macadam road. It is designed to keep sand rolling over its surface instead of stopping and blocking the road. Edges will be saturated with oil to keep the sand from drifting from under the base.

In order to keep the dunes from piling over the present plank road across the desert stretch holes are dug which provides a swirl that moves the sand of its own accord.

GASOLINE NECESSITY

A jury of Chatham, Va., decided that gasoline is a necessity and that it can be sold on Sunday without violating the state Sunday observance law.

DESTROY BILLBOARDS

Thousands of dollars invested in signs and billboards which infringe on the legal right of way of state highways in Pennsylvania are to be demolished.

How to Obtain Best Results When Oiling

Jack up the front wheels when lubricating the steering knuckle bolts. This takes the weight of the car off the bearings and means that quicker results are had from the oiling and greasing.

TO STOP SQUEAKS

Occasionally wheels cause squeaking due to the hubs becoming loose or the spokes drying out. A few drops of kerosene oil allowed to work into the spoke joints will usually eliminate the noise.

WINTER AUTO RACES DUE AT ASCOT

Open Speedway Sunday With Big Program Promised And New Drivers

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—The winter racing season at Ascot speedway will be ushered in Sunday afternoon with the biggest program ever scheduled for the popular race course.

Coming from the east and mid-west are many of the most noted dirt track and paved speedway drivers in the sport. While Fred Lockler, "Fuzzy" Davidson, and "Jack" Petticoat, who are returning to Ascot after several weeks' absence in the east, are familiar and popular faces to racing fans here, the 13 other drivers never have raced on the Pacific Coast. All are bringing cars which are the latest word in racing creations. Eight famous motor-bike riders are also en route for Sunday's events to augment the field of local riders who have been thrilling the crowds with their stuff.

Military Grid Games

As an added feature to the auto and motor-bike racing program, Ascot officials will stage a series of "military" football games each Sunday during the next two months.

The opening game Sunday will be between San Bernardino American Legion team and 160th Regiment eleven, both composed of college stars of past years. Games will be called at 2:30 with racing between periods, during the intermission, and after the finish of the games, thus insuring a rapid-fire program of thrills.

Newcomers Expected
In addition to Frank Lockhart, Cliff Bergere, Gus Schrader, Leon Duray and the "regulars" at Ascot, the newcomers who will include Lockler, Davidson, Petticoat, Jimmy Lusk, Frank Wain, Harry Kelly, Fred Barney, Ralph Ormsby, Indiana champion; Arthur Chevrolet, Al Watters, George Beck, Al Cotey, Ernie Foshbaugh, "Les" Allen, mid-west champion, Eddie Burbank, Wilbur Shaw, Jim Clancy, and "Billy" Walsh.

Ten racing events will be on the program. The Italian Colony Victory dash, Barney Oldfield sweepstakes, and the inaugural stakes are feature events.

DRIVE TO CHURCH

In Alabama people use their automobiles more frequently than in any other state for driving to church.

Of 54,420,000 qualified voters in this country four years ago, only 26,674,000 voted at the presidential election.

Orange County Will Not Join Others In Gasoline Tax Fight

SANTA ANA, Oct. 23.—The Orange county Board of Supervisors will not join other boards in the state in recommending to the state legislature an increase in the gasoline tax to 4 cents a gallon, according to Thomas B. Talbert, chairman. But it will favor a penny boost, provided the law is amended to permit the highway commission to use money from license fees and tax funds for primary construction on roads that are connecting links between important communities.

Six-Cent Fare Now In Vogue Over Elevated

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—In an effort to compensate the Boston Elevated Railway Co. for the recent increase in costs entailed by a wage advance to employees, all five-cent fares will be abolished November 1 and six-cent fares substituted.

The New Studebaker Big Six Duplex-Phaeton

Two Cars in One— An open and closed car combined

STUDEBAKER Duplex—a closed and open car combined. An entirely new type car—developed by Studebaker and available from no other maker.

It is the most sensational—most talked-of car in America. One minute you are enjoying the comfort and protection of a closed car—next the unhindered freedom that made the open car so popular. And the change can be made in 30 seconds by simply lowering the roller side enclosures.

Yet with all this two-fold convenience, the Duplex-Phaeton sells for no more than an open car.

The new Studebaker Big Six is strikingly beautiful—with long, low sweeping lines. It is especially designed and powered for seven-passenger service.

The Big Six Duplex-Phaeton is delivered to you with complete equipment. This even includes two highest grade bumpers, extra balloon tire, tube and tire cover—there is nothing else to buy.

But to appreciate this car you must inspect it—drive it. Test its delightful ease of operation—steering mechanism especially designed for its full-sized balloon tires.

Notice the new location of the lighting switch on the steering wheel—and many other new and unusual features.

See this car that has definitely solved the open-closed car problem.

IMPROVEMENT ON STUDEBAKER TOLD

New Duplex Model Is Easy To Convert From Open To Closed Car

"A new type of car has stirred the automobile world," says Donald Packer, of Packer Auto Co., Inc., 245 South Brand boulevard. "It is the Studebaker Duplex, so called to indicate that it is an open car one moment and, thirty seconds later, it is an enclosed car."

Two Cars in One
"Just pull down the roller enclosures concealed in the roof of the car, and the open car has been made an enclosed car."
"The body is built substantially, sides, corners and roof frame are of steel. The roof has curved steel sides and back, hardwood front. Steel U-shaped crossbeams, six of them, support the water-proofed duplex fabric top and its linings. There are offered three distinct lines of cars, the Standard Six, with 113-inch wheelbase and fifty horsepower motor; the Special Six, with 120-inch wheelbase and sixty-five horsepower motor; the Big Six, most magnificent and luxurious of its products, with 127-inch wheelbase and seventy-five horsepower motor."

Other New Features
"Mechanical improvements include an automatic ignition system, lighting control, in one small lever, right at the fingertips; one unobstructed piece of glass in the windshield, with full and free ventilation; steel apron over the gas tank; combination stop and tail light; cowl lights; automatic windshield cleaner; full balloon tires; hydraulic four-wheel brakes, optional at extra charge."

CAR UPSETS BUT NO DAMAGE DONE

Freak Accident Proves Top
Of Oakland Is Strong
And Protective

The trained actor can do a fall without injuring himself, but for a motor car to execute a half somersault without so much as denting the top is no mean trick.

"Early one morning last week during a fog in Los Angeles, two men in an Oakland six coupe misjudged their course and in driving out of a parking place piloted their car over a seven foot embankment," says John Neuschaefer, of 429 East Colorado street, Glendale Oakland dealer, "executed a half somersault, landing top down on the pavement. The occupants crawled out through the open window in one of the doors."

"They telephoned the Oakland six service department in the morning and a tow car was dispatched to the scene. The car was flopped over on its wheels. With the exception of crushed fenders on the rolling side, the car was in perfect condition. The top was not even loosened up in supporting the entire weight, the owner told us afterwards."

"We have in more than ten years had but three Oakland cars turn over but in each of these instances, the tops on the cars have demonstrated that the closed car is a safeguard against injury in such mishaps. The sturdy up-rights are sufficiently strong to carry the weight of the car and permit the occupants to ride in safety until the car comes to a rest and then crawl out alive."

DESIGN SPECIAL TIRES FOR MODEL

Six-Ply Balloon Cord Now
Standard Equipment on All Chrysler Six

The Chrysler Motor Corporation announces through Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, local Maxwell-Chrysler dealer, that it has adopted special six-ply balloon tires as standard equipment on all Chrysler Six models. The size is 30x5.77.

"The Chrysler Six is designed for balloon tires from the ground up," Mr. Clark said yesterday. "But not until tire makers, working in conjunction with its engineers, had designed and perfected a special six-ply cord tire, stronger and more durable than other balloons, would it adopt them. The six-ply, high speed tires now used on the Chrysler are specially designed and constructed to meet the car's high speed capacity and also to provide the greater resiliency of ordinary balloon types."

"This gives the ideal combination. The Chrysler, with its pivotal steering, its new type of spring construction that eliminates side sway, and its extra wide fenders, is actually built for the adoption of balloons. And the tires, in turn, are built to measure for the Chrysler."

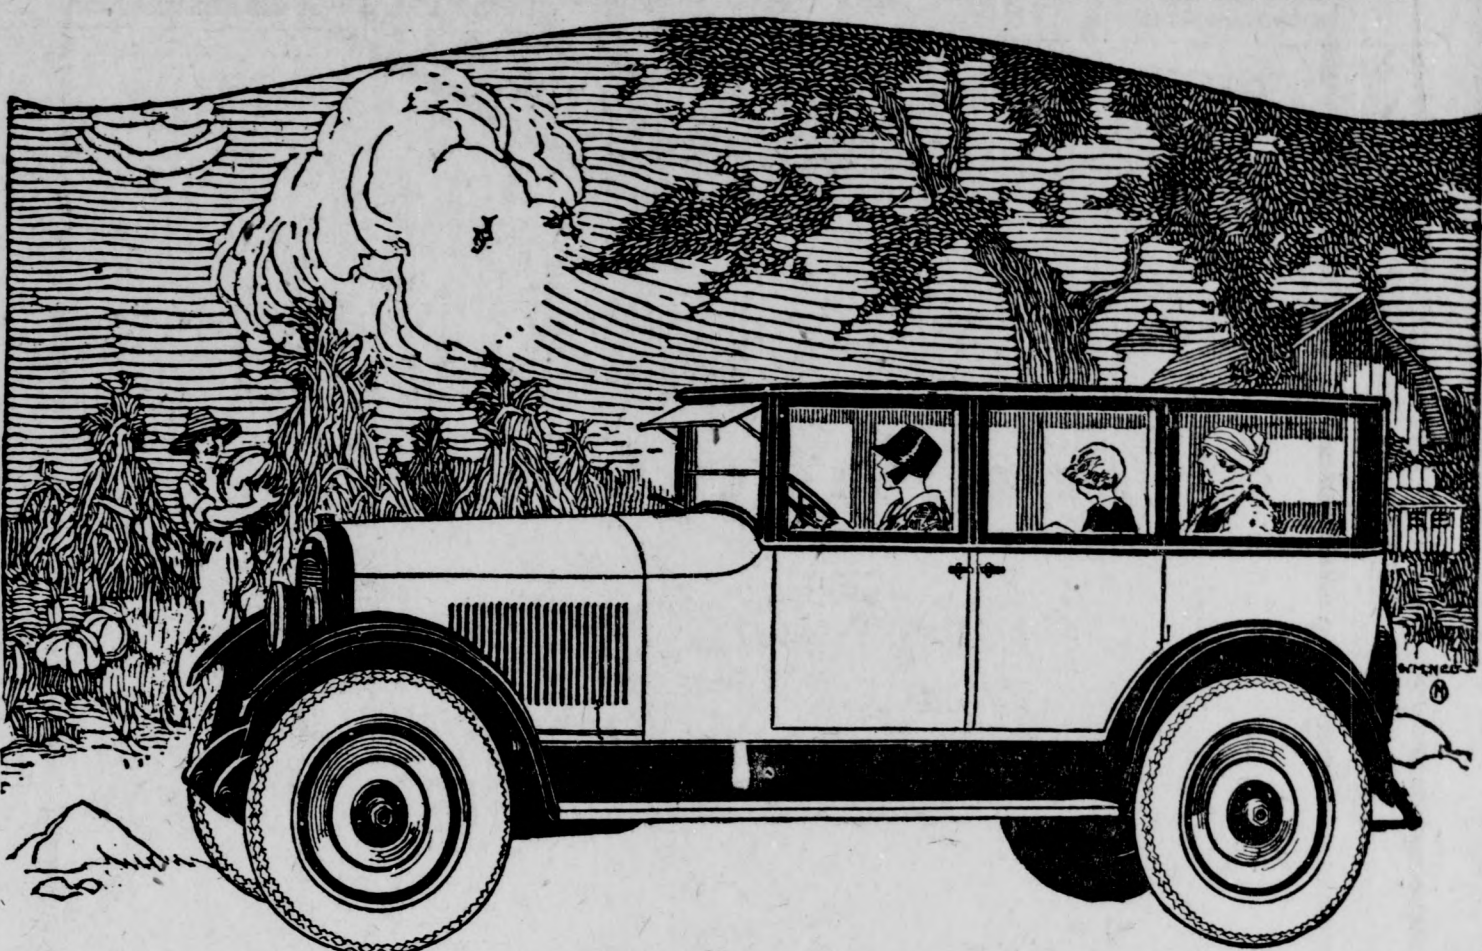

Sole Leather Market
Firm and Advancing

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The sole leather market here is firmer and advancing. Prices are 4 cents a pound higher than a month ago and demand is fully up to supply for good grades. Steer backs are quoted at 44 to 46 cents.

No Need for Pampering

You'll always feel confident of Jewett's ability to meet and beat all performance situations. Its sturdy ability to "stand up" under hard service. Jewett's long lived performance is proved by more than a billion miles of service.

There's giant-six power in Jewett's big 50 h. p. Paige-built motor. Take hills in high that stall most others. Pull away first in the traffic getaway. Power to go slowly in high wherever the pull is hard.

Every time any motor turns over—it wears. You can't avoid that. The faster it revolves—the faster it wears, naturally.

At the same car speed on the road smaller motors have to run far faster than Jewett's big motor. So of course they wear out that much sooner. You can see that Jewett's life must be far longer than these smaller motors'.

Extra Weight Means Extra Strength

Jewett's sturdy strength—massive 6-inch deep frame, heavy-duty axles, all-steel universal joints—ably handles Jewett's big power. Can lighter cars be as strong as Jewett? Stop and think. The strength-giving materials, in any car, are heavy. You know that! Steel weighs more than wood or tin. Then Jewett's extra weight means extra pounds of strength! And have you ever found a light car that can hold the road as well as a heavier car? Of course not!

Drop in or telephone and we'll arrange a ride in this smart Jewett Sedan. You drive. And bring the family along.

MORELAND TRUCK ON NEW CHASSIS

Drop Frame Model Promises
Speedier Delivery For Hustling Merchants

To satisfy the demand for greater speed in delivering merchandise to great distances, the Moreland Motor Truck Co. has brought out a new drop frame chassis.

Merchants wishing to increase their business and serve their customers more efficiently are reported eager purchasers of these low frame chassis, provided with pneumatic tires and special flexible springs to furnish riding comfort and assuring delivery of merchandise with the least possible damage.

Advantages of these chassis are set forth as: extreme ease of loading and unloading on account of the low construction; low center of gravity assures safety in turning corners; special flexible springs together with low center of gravity give smoothness and comfort in running and ease in driving; the light yet strong construction, together with powerful motor, imparts speed for short or long deliveries.

The larger delivery radius enables merchants to bring their names and their goods to the attention of a larger number of prospective customers. Today merchants are paying more attention to appearance than formerly as they find that neatly finished bodies attract attention and are capitalizing this by having their names prominently displayed.

CONSTIPATION OVERCOME
The use of FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS will bring speedy relief from constipation if taken promptly. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co. Home, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS in severe cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after effects. Try them.

USED CAR FILLS VITAL NEED HERE

Lyman P. Clark Presents
Strong Arguments for Immediate Buying

"People who don't wish to buy a used car will not be living in a used house all their lives," says Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., Maxwell and Chrysler dealers, who opened a sale of used cars at his place at 124 West Colorado street this week. "These people would laugh at the idea of wrecking a house after someone had lived in it for a year or two," Mr. Clark continued, "but they seem to consider that a car's usefulness is ended when it has been run for a year or so. Nothing could be a greater mistake. If they would only stop to consider, they would realize that every car they see on the roads is a used car."

"The used car is filling a vital need in every city in the country. It permits the man who owns it to give his family all the pleasure that is entailed in visiting new scenes, in spending week-ends and vacations seeing new country, and gaining new health and happiness."

No Reason to Hesitate
"There is no reason why a man should hesitate about buying a used car, especially when it is sold with a certificate of responsibility such as we are giving every buyer of a used car. Every car that we are offering first of all has been appraised at its proper value by men who know every angle of the automobile business. They have been re-conditioned and overhauled by master mechanics from bumper to bumper and worn parts replaced."

Mr. Clark has had his used car park on West Colorado street, lighted with electricity and his salesmen are on duty each night until 9 o'clock, so that those who are unable to call during the day can inspect the cars at night under conditions that reveal every detail. Results since the sale started have been profitable, he says.

erty is located in all sections of the city. But I am interested in seeing a civic center put in the center of the city where it belongs. Otherwise it will not be a civic center, a place where it is close to banks, department stores, and the center of the city, where you can go and pay your water bill, your light bill, and transact your other business, without having to go to another part of the city.

Spends Millions
"Mr. Ingledue mentioned that the civic centers in other cities were built outside of the business district. Then it is not a civic center. San Francisco has spent millions of dollars destroying its buildings, because it had to go outside of the main part of the city, as it could not get in the center of the city.

"Los Angeles today is confiscating property, moving mammoth hotels, and spending millions of dollars to make room for a civic center."

"I hoped from the day that I came into Glendale that we would not make a mistake and fail to take over this school property when the opportune time came for a civic center."

"Now we are all real estate men here, and we know the price of property. And when Mr. Ingledue makes the statement that he can go and purchase property within a few blocks for less price I think he is making a mistake. For you know as well as I do that South San Fernando boulevard, South San Fernando boulevard, Los Feliz and South Central property is selling for $300 per front foot or more.

Good Purchase

"Your park board, just a short time ago, took up the purchase of a strip of ground adjoining Magnolia school, between Magnolia avenue and Palmer street, and the frontage on Central between these two streets is $300 per front foot."

"And the property that we are now purchasing in the heart of our city is quoted as less than $300 per front foot, taking Harvard, Colorado and Louise streets, counting only three sides."

"I have contributed liberally to defray the expense of the bond issue and will contribute again through this Real Estate board, and I hope the people will not fail to take this opportunity and vote this through, because it would be disastrous to our city to lose this valuable ground."

AUTO THIEF IS NABBED BY CLUB

National Body Catches Man Who Operated By Use Of Fake License Plates

Theft bureau of the National Automobile club, which operates in eleven western states, recently apprehended Harry E. Wilson, former convict at Folsom and San Quentin, after he had worked a clever system of theft over a period of several months.

His method of operation was to write to one of the several Mountain states that issue licenses by mail, quoting to them a fictitious number on a certain make of automobile and requesting that his plates be sent by mail. After removing the engine number, he would replace it with a fictitious one so carefully that it was almost impossible to detect the change.

His operations covered a period of about two months in which time he disposed of about ten cars. Five of these cars were from Portland, three from Seattle and two from Salt Lake City.

While trying to dispose of a car to a Seattle dealer, he was caught and was sentenced to a term of from five to fifteen years at Walla Walla.

FRAZIER LAKES GET FISH STOCK

Cabin Site Buyers In Hills
District Surrounding Are Promised Good Sport

Following the recent visit of officials of the Frazier Mountain Park and Fisheries Co., Inc., to Rainbow Angling club, near Redlands, it was announced today that 100,000 fish had been purchased from Lee Garney, in charge of that department of the club's affairs, and that these fish will be placed in the lakes and streams at Frazier Mountain Park just as soon as work on these lakes is completed.

Officials of the company who negotiated the purchase of the fish were A. L. Baird, president; W. L. Twining, vice president; L. H. Myers, treasurer, and Harry G. MacBain, secretary. All predict good sport when the lakes are stocked with fish. Purchasers of cabin sites at Frazier Mountain park are offered an opportunity to fish to their hearts' content.

Work already has started on a number of the cabins, some of them being of frame construction, others of stone that is so plentiful in the immediate neighborhood.

Trails are being laid out, the wading pool for children is completed. Every promise made by the owners of this property is being carried out.

SULPHUR CLEARS SKIN RIGHT UP

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

LIFE OF BATTERY DEPENDS ON CARE

Recharge and Discharge It
Regularly; Constant Use
Gives Best Results

One of the most frequent queries the service station man receives is, "How long will a battery last?" "To ask such a question is just like asking the doctor how long will you live," states Mr. H. M. Kuhn of the Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard, local Willard dealers. "He would tell you that if you ate simply, got plenty of sleep and exercise and did a lot of other things, you might live to a ripe old age, barring accidents and provided there was nothing organically wrong."

"There are four things that determine battery life. They are use, time, care and the quality of the battery itself. The first three factors are wholly dependent on the individual use of the battery. The driver who starts and stops frequently, with short runs in between, or who uses his lights to excess, is not recharging his battery nearly so fast as he is discharging it. Time will wear a battery just as it will eventually destroy even mountains. The way to get the most from a battery is to use it day in and day out."

NURSERYMAN IN TALK ON HOMES

Brand Blvd. Plant Expert
Tells You How to Make Yard Beauty Spot

"Do we not enter a man's home the moment we set foot upon his property, and not, as generally accepted, when we cross his threshold? If so, we should plan and give our yards more consideration," says Edwin Murphy, of Brand Boulevard Nursery, 421 North Brand boulevard.

"To get the greatest possible enjoyment out of our home, and also from a practical standpoint," Mr. Murphy continued, "walks, drives and other yard features should be planned in relation to the house, thought given to location of garage and other buildings contemplated, and to shutting out with proper shrub-massing any unsightly view. If you are your own landscape gardener, create your landscape ideas on paper before you put it into execution."

"If you are not sure as to the hardness of any of the plants you contemplate using, ask the advice of your nurseryman. The placing of a shrub at some place where a water spout floods it, may injure, or even kill, the plant. Don't forget to use a certain amount of old-fashioned garden flowers, such as larkspur, hollyhocks, stocks, snapdragons and penstemon, and a liberal sprinkling of hardy Dutch and American bulbs. Let the growing and landscape department of the Brand Boulevard Nursery assist you."

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Oct. 23.—A population of 25,000 for this city by 1930 is predicted by W. M. Garland of Los Angeles, noted realtor, in a letter addressed to F. M. Wellington. In this letter Mr. Garland states he has watched Burbank for thirty-four years and that its growth is definite and susceptible of accurate estimate. As Mr. Garland is the man who several years ago predicted a growth for Los Angeles that then was thought fanciful but turned out to be conservative, his opinion is regarded by Mr. Wellington as of decided value.

The coroner's jury in the inquest over the body of Peter Elsey, aged 8 years, who met death on October 19, 1924, completely exonerated Frank Cronenberg, whose car crushed the boy's skull as he was crossing San Fernando road.

The jury was composed of Gregg Summers, J. B. Brown, W. Atwood, E. U. Davis, G. Rudolph and H. Winegardner.

The witnesses examined were D. W. Silbeck, of Glendale; Berny Loper, proprietor of the Victory theater; Joe Devino, who claimed to be the "godfather" of the dead child, and who claimed to have been with the lad at the time he was killed; Mr. Elsey, father of the boy; Mr. Cronenberg, the driver of the car, and Walter Harper, who was with him in the car.

Samuel M. Shortridge, United States senator from California, will speak tonight at the Thomas A. Edison school, it is announced, the program starting at 7:30 o'clock. He will talk in support of the Coolidge-Dawes campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kiddoo of 403 Palm avenue have returned home from a trip to San Diego, where they attended the wedding of Mr. Kiddoo's niece, Edna Mae Morree, who was married to Theodore H. Buteau October 8, at the Central Methodist church. They were gone a week and went to Escondido to visit with a nephew, Will Kiddoo.

Northwest Shows Bank Deposits on Increase

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 23.—Bank deposits in the Pacific northwest have increased materially since mid-year, the gains in some instances being 10 per cent. The gain in deposits is attributed by bankers to sales of crops. The gain in loans has been small.

Buying In Steel Lines Falls Off Noticeably

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 23.—Buying of general lines of steel products has fallen off in the last week. In some finished steel lines there is fully as heavy demand as a fortnight ago, merchant pipe and wire products being in this class, but in sheets, oil country goods and heavy rolled products there has been a decline in orders. There is fair hand to mouth buying of tinplate. Prices of bars, shapes and plates in Pittsburgh territory have eased off a little more. The local pig iron market is in a period of extreme quiet, with prices nominally unchanged.

The sugar crop of Japan this year weighed 4,352,000,000 lbs.

Grief-Stricken Father Tries to Burn Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Police were guarding a hospital here today, following the attempt of a grief-stricken father to burn the building. A blaze, put out before great damage was done, was discovered after a man whose wife and child had died in the hospital recently, wrote to the hospital authorities threatening to destroy the structure.

WESTERN TRADERS VERSUS EASTERN

Difference In Time Prevents Local Brokers Indulging
In Early Golf

By MARKET OBSERVER
For Southland News Service
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—The casual observer may wonder why the Los Angeles market trader has so much time for golf these sunny afternoons. In reality, he has no more time than his eastern brethren in the brokerage business, but it is more apparent.

Bankers and business men of the east, like bankers of the west, have their morning round of golf while the little birds are still singing their praises and the dew is on the grass. Not so with the man who watches the markets of any of the boards in and around Los Angeles. He is "on the job" at 7 o'clock in the morning, for the difference in time between New York and Los Angeles makes 10 o'clock trading in Gotham 7 o'clock trading here.

Get Early Start
It seems strange to the eastern market editor to walk into the wire rooms of the Los Angeles brokerage houses after an early breakfast and read a New York dispatch which says: "Buyers of industrials are active this morning," when the western half of the United States hasn't thought about buying anything.

So it is that the investors here complete their trading by noon, linger a little to watch the close of the Los Angeles exchange and hie to the golf links where they may loaf with the "idle rich."

You will hear from them discussing today the constructive policy adopted by New York houses as a result of the election being virtually conceded to Coolidge.

Fred Braden to Speak At Civic Center Meet

Fred Braden, head of the National Playground association, will be special speaker next Wednesday night at the civic center mass meeting at the Harvard High school, it was announced today. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson will talk on "The Human Side of the Civic Center Project." The Tuesday Afternoon club is taking interest in securing the civic center and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, club president, has named Mrs. R. E. Chase and Mrs. Max Lynn Green as four-minute speakers in Glendale theatres on the subject.

Radio Personages at Buckeye Club Tonight

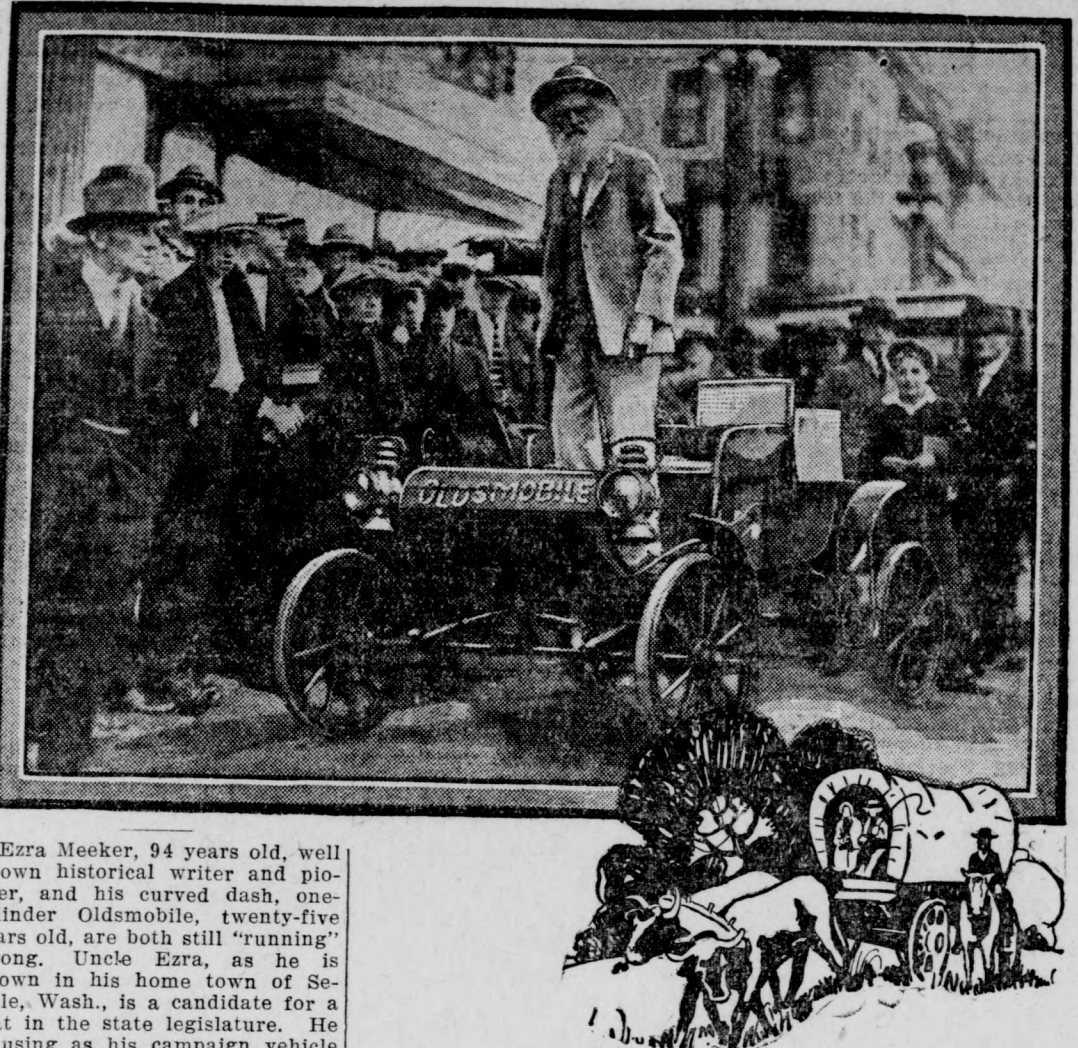

Former residents of Ohio are planning to attend the meeting of the Buckeye club which will be held at Hahn's hall, 109-A North Brand boulevard, at 8 o'clock tonight. After the business meeting a program will be enjoyed. "The Sandman" and "The Little Queen Titania," well known to radio fans, will appear in person as the feature number on the program. All former residents of this state are invited to attend the meeting.

Here's what the New York Mail had to say:
"Coolidge is not particularly a Wall Street president, but big business and high finance are in accord with his policies and are naturally encouraged by forecasts of his election."

Another observer says that buying yesterday represented a belief in Coolidge victory and the stock market looks higher. This same source says that well informed people in New York think La Follette has abandoned hope of tying up the election.

Stumps State In Old Car

EZRA MEEKER, who made an airplane trip across the continent recently, shown delivering political speeches from the hurricane deck of the first Oldsmobile car shipped to Seattle. He is candidate for Washington state legislature this year.

Ezra Meeker, 94 years old, well known historical writer and pioneer, and his curved dash, one-cylinder Oldsmobile, twenty-five years old, are both still "running" strong. Uncle Ezra, as he is known in his home town of Seattle, Wash., is a candidate for a seat in the state legislature. He is using as his campaign vehicle the first automobile shipped into the Northwest—a tiller drive Oldsmobile of the vintage of 1900.

During the heat of the campaign he toured up and down the streets of Seattle, making speeches from the "man-of-war," as he calls it.

Meeker was born in Huntsville, Ohio, December 29, 1830. In 1852, when 22 years old, he with other adventurous youths started west over the Oregon Trail to the Pacific in one of the famous "Covered wagons," hauled by a sturdy yoke of his father's oxen. He farmed the soil of Washington territory and later Washington state for more than half a century.

In 1906 Meeker trekked back over the same trail with another ox team and visited Washington, D. C. During the past decade he has written several historical books as well as nature stories for children. This year he decided that it was time for all good men to come to the aid of their party, so he entered himself as a candidate for the state legislature.

During the week of the recent airplane races at Dayton, Ohio, Meeker retraced his "steps" a second time over the famous Oregon trail, this time by the fleetest mode of travel yet devised by man. Where it took six months to journey by ox team from Huntsville, Ohio, to the vicinity of Seattle in 1852, he "back trailed" over the same route by airplane in two days.

The photograph of Ezra Meeker and his "Merry Oldsmobile" of other days was received here by C. H. Hunter, 208 West Broadway, local distributor for Oldsmobile cars.

Tow Cars Neglect To Protect Lives, Claim

Tow cars called to assist disabled motorists at night are careless about parking with lights obscured, according to reports reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California. These reports in effect that several bad collisions have been narrowly averted due to this cause. It appears that the tow cars will park in front of the disabled car, which is without lights, so that motorist, approaching from the rear have no warning of obstruction in the road.

Drivers of tow cars are being warned to make sure that danger lights are visible to approaching motorists from both ways if disaster is to be dodged.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Mixed movements in stock prices characterized the stock market today. The oil stocks were uniformly strong and active throughout the whole session. Railroad stocks advanced to higher levels in the early trading, although as a rule they were unable to hold their gains. Uneasiness in a few important industries, such as textiles, sugar and to a smaller extent, the independent steel companies' business, was reflected in the heavy sale of stocks of representative companies, with consequent declines in prices.

The aggressive rally in the oil stocks offered further evidence that Wall street sees a definite turning of the corner in the oil industry, which will continue on condition that crude oil production declines sufficiently to allow of a gradual elimination of the enormous supplies of oil products in storage.

Pacific Oil led the independents today with a rise of 1-2 to 52, but a dozen or more of the popular independent issues reached new high levels on the present movement.

The drop in sugar stocks, in which American Sugar reached a new low for the year at 37 3/4 and Cuba Cane sugar preferred sold down to 52 7/8, was accompanied by rumors that sugar prices were due for a decline. The drive against American Woolen, which netted the bears 3-4 points, was helped along by rumors that shrinkage of inventory values would entail considerable loss by the company. Favorable industrial and business reports were without important effect on the stock market, but neither were there any traces of the uneasiness over the political situation, which unsettled the market last week.

Railroad stocks were active and strong in the early trading, but buying in the rails was not extended as in other departments of the market.

Maxwell Motors "A" and "B" stock took the lead in the motor group, both selling at new high prices for 1924, the former at 64 1-2, up 2-1/2, and the latter at 20 1-4; Studebaker and Mack Truck were the center of active trading, in which prices advanced fractionally over the previous close.

The mercantile stocks led a moderate upward movement in the fourth hour, Woolworth gaining 2 points at 109 1-2; Sears-Roebuck and Associated Dry Goods fractionally higher and G. R. Kinney up 1-2 at 79 1-4. Recoveries in the sugar and textile stocks and in Bethlehem Steel, which sold up from 37 3/4 to 39 1-2, were also features of this period.

Edison common in a small lot sold at $99 and then made $99.50. Preferred also was firm at $104.75.

In the petroleum issues Henderson sold at 60 and 65 cents, Holly Development dropped back to $1.18 and $1.17 while Julian preferred was dull at $12.50. Common Julian to the extent of fifteen shares sold at $8. It is apparent that lines are being tightly drawn for a final fight with most of the stock going into escrow.

U. S. Royalties, Standard of California and Union Associates were among active sellers at firm prices. Outman United in the mines sold at 15 and 15 1/2 cents while Simon Silver was active at 6 1/2 cents.

YE MARKET PLACE OPENS SATURDAY

Food Demonstrations to Be
Feature Event; Parking
Space Is Ample

Glendale's largest and newest general market, located in the recently completed structure on Los Feliz road between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, will open its doors to the public for the first time Saturday. The new market will be known as "Ye Market Place" and will contain separate and complete departments to serve every need of the shopper.

Plans for the opening are to make it one of the most gala events of the year for the people of Glendale. Everyone is invited to visit the big semi-circular market some time during the day. Music and entertainment will be features with a giant super-food exhibit as the main attraction. This exhibit will occupy 2500 square feet of floor space with twenty demonstrations of leading products.

One of the big novelties of the new market is the huge semi-circular auto parking station which will be maintained. The auto park consists of 15,000 square feet of space in front of the market on private property. Facilities for caring for 100 machines at a time with ample room to drive in and out are provided.

New Departments
The market departments will all be open Saturday morning at eight o'clock. During the day the demonstrations will be continued and free samples will be given away. Attractive rest rooms add to the convenience and comfort of the market, declared to be one of the finest in the west.

Included in the list of leading merchants with concessions in the new building are Rabin Brothers, delicatessen food store which will be open from seven in the morning until midnight every day in the year; Schuyler and Harshman, fruits and vegetables, store No. 4 and E. A. Morrison, Inc., groceries. The New England Bakery, with a full line of bakery goods will maintain a department. Russell's Kitchen Equipment Shop will carry everything for the housewife in kitchenware. Other concessions are Barab's Hot Lunch and confections and Ye Market Place Florist. A high class meat market is also included.

October Is Month of Heavy Accident List

With the coming of the season when rains may be expected in this section, motorists are warned to use extra precautions to avert accidents. Statistics of life insurance companies indicate that October is the peak month of the year in traffic fatalities.

This situation is accounted for by the fact that twilight hours come on earlier, children are back in school, and the motorists become more careless because they believe the heavy touring season of the summer is passed.

An analysis of the September traffic casualties shows that some 50 per cent of the disasters were due to the fault of motorists, 39 per cent to the carelessness of pedestrians, and 11 per cent to faults in the highway or other conditions. Hence, the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California calls attention to the situation presented at this season of the year, and urges that motorists and the public alike be especially careful.

Another rail fight is predicted by the New York Sun which says the Pennsylvania system needs the Lehigh Valley railroad and will fight others in an effort to acquire either it or the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

ONLY PACKARD CAN BUILD A PACKARD

Brings 44% of Its Cost After 108,000 Miles

One of the "Big Four" tire companies tests its products in actual use on the road. Three Packard Sixes have recently completed 320,000 miles of continuous service in these tire tests.

One of them traveled 108,000 miles on a schedule of 420 miles per day. That is the equivalent of ten years of average owner use.

Only it's much harder on the car than ten years of ordinary driving. Because the wear and tear and strain are concentrated into a few months.

The superintendent of a large garage—a mechanical authority who knows motor cars—gladly paid for this Packard, 44 per cent of its original cost.

He says he expects to drive it for ten years himself. That is the kind of quality built into the Packard Six—the kind which makes Packard the most economical investment in personal transportation.

Vote YES on Amendment Number ONE TAX MOTOR BUSESSES As you do all other Public Utilities

Amendment Number One—on your ballot November 4th—levies a state tax of 4 per cent on the gross earnings of Motor Carriers. In addition they will continue to pay the Gasoline Tax.

It is only an accident of legislation that makes this amendment necessary today. Fourteen years ago the people voted that the state should tax earnings of public utilities, leaving other property for county and municipal taxation. But the motor carriers were not in existence in 1910, and the constitutional amendment adopted then specifically enumerated only the transportation utilities then in use—steam and electric railroads—along with gas and electric companies, banks, and express companies.

When you vote for Amendment Number One in November you will not be reducing the taxes now paid by motor stages. You will include these motor carriers in the taxation plan that has been in force in California for fourteen years. Under this plan the rate of taxation paid by any utility can be increased whenever two-thirds of the Legislature find an increase warranted by the facts.

The motor carriers are advocating this amendment because the uncertainty of taxation from two sources—state and local—means confusion and hinders the stabilization of their industry. Today motor stages serve 786 communities in the state that have no other common means of transportation. Like other public utilities the motor carriers are regulated by the Railroad Commission.

Declaring that commercial, agricultural, industrial and social benefits have trailed the auto stage, the California Railroad Commission says in its annual report:
"The wonderful growth of automotive transportation in the common carrier field entitles it to a rank among the major utilities of the state."
The motor stages carried 29,000,000 passengers last year in California. And it is these 29,000,000 passengers that benefited by this use of the highways. They paid fares that are lower than rail fares. And a part of these fares went to pay the gasoline tax that the state collects from every user of the highways.

When you vote YES on Amendment Number One you will bring within the taxation plan, that has been in operation for fourteen years, the common carrier that makes the highways useful to all people.

CHAPTER IV

"I shall present you," she promised. "You will find him a most interesting and delightful man, and, if my husband is to be believed, it is he who, for the next generation, will decide the destinies of his country."

"It will give me great pleasure to meet him," Grant assured her. "He was not in office when I was in Berlin but I remember being told he had a great dislike to America and Americans."

She shrugged her shoulders. "His father was of the Hohenzollern regime," she remarked, "and the republican government of today is a bitter pill for the aristocracy of a score of generations. He seems to be alone just now. Wait until I call you."

She crossed the room and was welcomed cordially by a tall, exceedingly aristocratic-looking man, apparently about sixty years of age, dressed with the utmost care, handsome and with a charming smile. A moment or two later he made his way with Gertrude by his side to where Grant was standing. He brushed aside Gertrude's formal introduction.

"I had interest in the Foreign Office at Berlin when Mr. Slattery was at the American Embassy," he said. "I remember him quite well. I regret very much to hear that you have left the Service, Mr. Slattery. We need all the help we can get nowadays from Americans of your status and culture."

"Germany has shown lately that she needs no help from any one, sir," Grant replied.

"You are very kind. There is no power on earth which could hinder the German people from attaining to their destiny. But we need understanding and we need sympathy. We are not always represented to our friends as we would wish. I hope that I shall see more of you in Monte Carlo, Mr. Slattery. I am staying at the Villa Monaco, and shall be glad to receive your visit. I am usually to be found at home, at any time when the Congress at Nice is sitting."

He passed on, with a low bow and a whispered farewell to Gertrude, leaving in Grant's mind a curious impression of unfriendliness, for which he could not in the least least account. Even his civility had seemed unnatural.

"They say that he is to be our next President," Gertrude confided.

Her companion watched the Prince thoughtfully as the latter paused to accept the greetings of a friend.

"I don't think I ever met a man who looked so ill-fitted to be the President of a great democracy," he remarked drily.

"Could you think of a more suitable post for him?"

He nodded.

"I could more easily imagine him the Mephistophelian chancellor of an autocrat."

"Back in the Hohenzollern days?"

"Or in the days which may be in store for us," he replied.

She looked into the baccarat room.

"An empty place at my favorite table!" she exclaimed.

"Call on me early tomorrow, Grant, and we'll plan something. Forgive my hurrying. I can't afford to miss this."

He watched her pass into the outer room and seat herself contentedly in the vacant place. Then he strolled from table to table, risking a look now and then, but scarcely waiting to see the result. He stood aloof for some minutes, watching Gertrude immersed in the baccarat. Then he wandered into the Bar, where Susan Yeovil presently found him. She sank into a chair by his side.

"Broke!" she announced ruefully, turning her little handbag inside out. "Not a louis left, and the others won't be ready to go home for an hour yet."

"Can I be of any assistance?" he ventured.

She shook her head.

"I've been too nicely brought up. I couldn't possibly borrow money from you. Tell me about the beautiful lady."

"She was very well known three or four years ago in Washington as Gertrude Butler," Grant confided.

"She is the woman to whom I was engaged and who married Prince von Dies."

"You poor thing!" she exclaimed. "How horrid for you meeting her like that. Did you mind much?"

"I don't know," he replied. "I was asking myself that question as you came up. I have never been able to analyse exactly my feeling for her, either during those days of our engagement or since. I was very much in love with her, for that counts for anything."

"It doesn't," she assured him. "Being in love is just a spring disease. I fancied myself in love with Bobby before I heard of him advertising himself with that Russian lady in Nice. Six sets of Booth Tarkington's clever comedy of small town life, "The Country Cousin," is delighting audiences at the Tuesday Afternoon club theater, where it is being presented at 8:15 o'clock each night this week, with a 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee, reports Miss Eva Daniels, business manager.

Miss Gertrude Keller gives a splendid performance in the role of the old maid cousin, Miss Rosamonde Joyelle, as Mrs. Howitt, portrays her role splendidly. John Vosburgh as George Tewksberry Reynolds III, causes a burst of laughter at each entrance. Eleanor Howitt, the little country girl, looking "We and finding it not so good, is interpreted with finesse by Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, and Richard Ehlers as Sam Wilson, who intends to be at least a senator of these United States, is so well done that even the audience is with him. William S. Stephens, George C. Pearce, Thyrta Ruhlman, Carroll Nye, Arthur Lovejoy, Gertrude Rothe and Harry Glazier all fill their roles well.

MURPHY COMEDIES

Murphy Comedies No. 2 are drawing big audiences at their theater on San Fernando boulevard at Cedar street, Burbank, reports J. W. Davis, manager. The show is "Girl From Home," a hilarious comedy-drama in four funny acts.

A special feature of the show is Wally Perrin's jazz orchestra, whose euphonious tinkle is well known in these parts. Mr. Davis states. The tent is open from 7:15 on, and the curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

Murphy's Comedians have proved to Glendale theatre-goers that they know how to put over real entertainment, and in the long list of successes to their credit during their six months in this locality, they feel, and are confident hundreds of local people will follow them to their new location.

Iron ore has been discovered in Tasmania, and a plant being erected at Burnie will manufacture many kinds of iron and steel goods for export.

Tennis this afternoon, three eclair and the cocktail you are going to give me presently have completely cured me."

"Fancy intruding your own experiences in such a serious matter! You are only a child," he reminded her with a smile.

THE GATEWAY

"An actress can give you just as sympathetic a portrayal in a French gown as she can give in a singham apron," announces Helen Jerome Eddy, one of the featured players in Hunt Stromberg's production of "The Fire Patrol" for Chadwick Pictures Corporation, which comes to the Gateway Theater today, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Eddy has given so many splendid characterizations which called for drab costumes that the impression might easily be gained that she is of the same mind as so many of our modern authors—finding drama only in the sordid. She denies this emphatically.

"It just happens that this is the type of role which falls to me most often. But it is the warmth of coldness of human hearts that makes drama—not the clothes that cover them. If the latter were so it would really be the worst of the worst. The most dramatic potentialities!"

"Seriously, though . . . And Miss Eddy can be very serious. "A woman wearing the garb of poverty may lead a placid life in which, if there is any drama at all, she fails to recognize it. While from her fingers is more apt to be dripping tears from her masochism as well. Wealth complicates life."

"So often, a really fine actress has been called a 'clothes-horse' merely because she chose to emote in pink georgette—instead of red flannelette," she admits regretfully. "Personally, lovely clothes fascinate me. Lay it to my luck and not my preference that I appear so often with a permanent apron."

THE GLENDALE

Manager William A. Howe of the Glendale Theater will present tonight at this playhouse the pupils of the Pearl Keller school of dancing and dramatic art, in its tenth annual "Children's Society Vaudeville," which he states is a bewitchingly fascinatingly beautiful and colorful production, wonderfully costumed and, in brief, the most highly developed presentation of youthful talent ever produced in the city of Glendale. Friday and Saturday, the feature at the Glendale Theater will be Hoot Gibson in "Broadway or Bust."

THE T. D. & L.

Johnny Hines in "Little Johnny Jones" concludes today at the T. D. & L. Theater. Friday and Saturday the feature is "Wine of Youth."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND KATY

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, on a pleasant day in October, he chanced to pass by a spring of water. And from the spring a faint little voice cried:

"Oh, save me! Save me! I've fallen in and I can't swim!"

"Who are you and what have you fallen in?" asked the rabbit.

"You can't have fallen in the molasses barrel, for there isn't any molasses barrel here."

"I've fallen in the spring," was the answer. "Please help me to get out!"

"I shall be very happy to do that," spoke Uncle Wiggily. He hopped toward the spring, for a quick look showed him that neither the Woozie Wolf nor the Fuzzy Fox was there.

Splashing about in the cold water of the spring was a bright green bug, with large wings.

"If you shouldn't go swimming in such cold water, Miss Bug," spoke the bunny, for he could see that it was a sort of lady bug.

"I didn't go swimming," was the answer. "I was sitting on the branch of a tree and the wind blew me into the water. Oh, thank you so much!" spoke the green bug, as she began drying her wings in the warm sun.

"Katy what?" asked the rabbit.

"No, not Katy What," said the bug. "Just plain Katy. And thank you again for saving me from drowning in the spring."

"You are quite welcome. I'm sure, Katy," answered the bunny with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "Are you all right now?"

"Yes, thank you," answered the bug called just Katy.

So Uncle Wiggily went on through the woods, and that evening, when he was hopping over to Uncle Butter's house to play a game of Scotch checkers, all of a sudden the Fuzzy Fox began to chase the rabbit.

Now it happened that on this very afternoon the Fox had caught a fine, fat chicken for his supper. But when he laid it down a minute, to clean some dirt off his tail, some other animal slipped up and took away the chicken of the Fox. The Fox was very angry, and he said he wished he knew who had taken his chicken.

"I think it was my sister Katy," said the Fox, as he gnashed his hungry teeth. "Wait until I catch Katy! But as long as I haven't a chicken, I'll go out and see if I can catch Uncle Wiggily."

So the Fox chased the poor bunny through the woods until, all of a sudden, a voice cried:

"What's that?" barked the Fox, stopping, so Uncle Wiggily could also stop and catch his breath.

"What did you say?"

"Katy did! Katy did!" cried the voice again.

"Ha! I thought she did," snapped the Fox. "Katy did take my chicken after all. Well, I'm going right back home and make Katy give me back my chicken. I'll chase you some other time,

"Thank you—don't bother on my account," chuckled the rabbit. And then, in the moonlight, he saw a green bug laughing on a tree. It was the same green bug the bunny had taken from the spring.

"What are you laughing at?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm laughing at the way I fooled the Fox," was the answer. "I am, you must know, the Katy did bug. Always I cry 'Katy did! Katy did!' The Fox thought I was speaking of his sister Katy, but I wasn't at all. I always call that way." And then the green bug sang again: "Katy did! Katy did!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the rabbit uncle. "I'm glad you fooled the Fox."

Katy was also glad. And if the button hook doesn't untie the string head, so it can't make a cat's cradle for the gold fish, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cold bee.

HEAVY FOOTBALL SCHEDULES ON TAP THIS WEEK

CONFERENCE SEASON IS STARTED

Trojans Play Nevada; Bears Meet Washington State; Oxy vs. Grizzlies

With another week of fall weather fast drawing to a close, gridiron fans are busy trying to decide which of the many games they want to see this week. The big college games in the east Saturday will attract considerable attention, while the games in California and along the Pacific coast will draw the crowds.

The Trojans return to the Coliseum Saturday to mingle with the University of Nevada team. Charley Erb, coach of the Nevada Wolves, won fame as quarterback for the California Bears. Last year the Wolves held the Bears for a scoreless tie, and the year before held the Trojans to a 6-0 score.

The California Bears will open the conference season Saturday when Washington State plays in the new stadium at Berkeley. Strenuous efforts have been made since last Saturday to strengthen the Bears' line, which is causing Andy Smith a lot of worry.

Oxy and Grizzlies are expected Saturday. The Occidental Tigers hook up with the Southern Branch Grizzlies at Moore field. The Tigers didn't make such a good showing against Santa Clara last Saturday as followers of Oxy expected and reports from the Little Bear camp point to another disappointment for the Bengal worshippers.

At Claremont the Sageshens will entertain Redlands. Pomona has experienced a couple of tough games as season openers when they played U. S. C. and California, and for that reason are expected to run up a fair sized score against the Baptist.

The Stanford football team is en route to Portland, where the Cards will meet Idaho Saturday. Idaho is counted a strong foe on the 1924 schedule and one of the three teams the Cards must beat to win the conference title.

High School Game
Caltek will stop outside the chosen circle Saturday to meet the Loyola Lions at Loyola. Coach Bill Hess of the Lions has uncovered a couple of fast players, according to reports, who will be in Saturday's game.

The Pomona frosh are scheduled to meet the Redlands at Claremont Saturday afternoon.

In high school circles, there are several high class games scheduled for today, Friday and Saturday. The lightweights will hold forth today. In the Central league Glendale will play Monrovia at Broadway field. Alhambra goes to Covina and Citrus plays at South Pasadena. In Los Angeles, Lincoln plays at Franklin, and Manual Arts plays at Jefferson. In the Bay league, Huntington Park goes to Santa Monica, Venice plays at Redondo and Los Angeles Harbor midgets journey to Inglewood.

Tomorrow's contests in the Central league, Class A, will see Glendale at Monrovia, South Pasadena at Citrus, and Covina at Alhambra. In the Bay league Friday San Pedro plays at Inglewood, Santa Monica plays at Huntington Park and Venice journeys to Edendale. Orange plays at Anaheim in a game that will have a great deal of bearing on the Orange county title.

The City league schedule for tomorrow brings together Manual Arts and Jefferson at the Coliseum, Franklin plays at Lincoln's field, while Hollywood, Poly and L. A. High draw byes. Valley league games are Bonita at Norwalk, Downey at Puente and Montebello at El Monte. Citrus Belt games are Redlands at Riverside, and Pomona at Chaffey Union.

Eastern games will be: Dartmouth and Harvard at Cambridge, Notre Dame at Princeton, Boston University and Army at West Point, Syracuse at Penn State, Columbia and Williams at New York, Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson against Lafayette at New York, Penn U. and Virginia at Philadelphia, West Virginia Wesleyan and George at Annapolis, Bucknell and Georgetown at Washington, Depauw at Illinois U. Chicago and Ohio State

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The standing of the various important eleven throughout the country at this mid-season juncture may or may not argue anything definite so far as the future is concerned. In some cases it probably does; in others probably not.

At all events here is how the eleven stand to rate in the mind of the writer and of other football specialists in the various sections:

East: Yale, Dartmouth, Penn. Army, Syracuse, Lafayette, Princeton, Columbia, Rutgers, Williams, Lehigh, Pittsburgh, Harvard, Penn State, Boston college, Holy Cross, Brown.

Yale is placed above Dartmouth because the Elis in tying the Green won a virtual victory over an eleven that had pointed for this contest. In other words, at this time Yale gives the greater promise.

South Atlantic (rated by W. T. Christian of Richmond): Navy, Virginia and Georgetown bracketed for second, Washington and Lee third. The defeat by Wake Forest is taken into consideration in this rating. W. and L. Fourth position sees Wake Forest, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Poly and William and Mary bracketed. In fifth place stands a group of three, viz.: North Carolina university, Maryland and Catholic university; in sixth place this group: North Carolina State, King and Hampden Sydney, Trinity, Johns Hopkins, Davidson, Roanoke and Washington college grouped seventh. In the eighth group stand Richmond, Lynchburg, George Washington, St. Johns and Western Maryland.

In the middle western conference the writer rates Illinois easily first. Chicago stands second and at this writing seems the one team likely to stand in the way of Illini's quest of a championship. In the third place the following unbeaten teams are bracketed: Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Ohio State. Michigan has a chance to improve her present standing, but Purdue, Northwestern and Indiana are out of it.

Of the non-conference teams Notre Dame stands way up at the head and considering Illinois' record too good defense would probably score as many touchdowns as could Grange, if not more, were the two teams to meet.

South (rated by Zipp Newman of Birmingham): Georgia Tech, Georgia, Tulane, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana State, Auburn, Vanderbilt.

California must receive at the present time the topmost place. Then California, which, however, must begin to show form in real tests against conference rivals in order to hold this position or to better it. Washington slides into third. Were its schedule more difficult it would have a great chance of taking conference honors. As it is it will probably win all its remaining games without gaining great prestige. Fourth, Leland Stanford, which has been disappointing so far in the matter of fighting spirit and cohesiveness.

Rocky mountain conference (rated by Les Coates of Salt Lake City): Colorado university, Montana State college, Colorado Aggies.

Southwestern conference (rated by Sam Pace of Fort Worth, Tex.): Southern Methodist university, whose forward passing on Saturday disposed of the strong Texas university team. Second, Texas Christian university; then in a group Texas A. and M., Texas university, Nice, Baylor, Oklahoma A. and M., Texas university and Arkansas have all lost conference games and are out of the race.

In the Missouri valley Nebraska's strong game against Illinois and its smashing defeat of Colgate mark it as a formidable contender for honors in this conference, but because of her defeat of Chicago, Missouri must be regarded as standing first at the present time, with Nebraska leading Kansas and other members of this group.

at Columbus, Nebraska and Kansas at Lawrence, Minnesota at Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan at Ann Arbor, Missouri and Kansas Aggies at Columbia, Mo., and Georgia and Vanderbilt at Nashville.

DUFFY LEWIS GETS PORTLAND TEAM

Ex-Manager of Bees to Pilot Beavers; Johnson May Buy Oakland Club

By THREE STRIKES For Southern News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Officially the Pacific Coast league season is closed. Unofficially the Hot Stove league, including gas radiators, electric heaters and open hearths, is open.

News that Walter Johnson has purchased the Oakland ball club from J. Cal Ewing is expected momentarily and today brings the announcement that Portland has passed into the managerial hands of "Duffy" Lewis, former manager of the Salt Lake Bees, aided by Thomas L. Turner and John Shibe, the latter owner of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Babe, Walter Due "Red" Killifer, who bought an interest in the Seattle Indians early in the season and piloted the Siwash to victory, is said to have shared in $75,000 profits already and a few more games to be played with the American Association winners from St. Paul this week-end.

Long Beach confidently expects to see the Salt Lake Bee franchise transferred to the harbor district, although Ed Maier doesn't relish the idea. And with new ownership in Portland and Oakland the P. C. L. next year promises some piping hot stuff for the fans.

In the meantime fans will see plenty of big leaguers in action on the local sand lots, Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson being scheduled to appear this week-end in exhibitions.

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO TACKLE MONROVIA

Second Game of Schedule on This Afternoon, Varsity Plays Tomorrow

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR. Of the Evening News Staff.

The local lightweight eleven is to meet the Monrovia 130-pound team this afternoon in the second game of the league schedule. Coaches Butterfield and Hicks who are piloting the local look forward to a victory. Last week the young dynamiters took the Citrus understrung down the line, 17-0, after being held scoreless the first half by their opponents. The team is the strongest the school has had for some time and a lightweight football player is expected to adorn the auditorium after the close of the season.

While the lightweights are playing, Coaches Hayhurst and Pierce will be tuning up the varsity team for the battle with Monrovia Friday. Although the Monrovia game is not expected to be a hard one the team will be in shape to make its best showing.

Muff on Bench
Elmer Muff, who with Bud Elliott, starred in the Citrus game last Friday, will probably be unable to play owing to his badly sprained arm. Muff received his injury in the closing minutes of last week's game. Bud Elliott will probably call the signals for the Dynamiters with Ward and Ryan at halves and Denney at full. Leslie Lavelle and Ellsworth de Paro will start at ends, Lewis Dotson and "Droopy" Phillips at tackles, Marion Morrison and Dixon Pannon guards, and Cecil Zaun at center.

Women's Athletic Club Active In Sport Field

With exceptionally fine fall weather prevailing, activities of the Women's Athletic club are proving popular with Glendale women. The golf group spent Tuesday on the links at Griffith park. At 9:30 o'clock next Tuesday morning a meeting will be held at the same place and a new class formed. Mrs. R. E. Corrigan is chairman, and will arrange for transportation.

The tennis group met yesterday morning at the Macpherson court on Kenneth road, and a second group in the afternoon on the Harrower courts on East Broadway. Plans are progressing for the formation of a second swimming class. Club members desiring to join are asked to call Mrs. George G. Smith, at Glendale 347.

Prince of Wales Pays Visit to Bay Staters

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 23.—The Prince of Wales arrived here shortly after 10 a. m. today. He was met at the station by Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., whose guest he will be during his brief stay at their Hamilton estate. Nearly 3,000 persons were held back by police when they tried to press on to the station platform.

FOOTBALL

BERKELEY, Oct. 23.—Coach Andy Smith will send his University of California football team against the aggregation from Washington State in their first conference game in the California Memorial Stadium next Saturday afternoon.

Last Saturday's contest the Olympic Club gridders indicated just what Andy Smith has been driving at all season. His line needs considerable bolstering while his backfield is coming along nicely. Although the Olympians tore through the line at will during the game, the line showed that it had considerable strength when it was necessary to hold the Clutmen in order to prevent them from getting a touch-down. It will be the task of Andy Smith and Boles Rosenthal to inject this strength in the line throughout the game.

All through the practice season Coach Smith has been shifting his guards and tackles in order to place them in their most valuable positions. At tackle it looks as if Carey and White, with Sargent as reserve, will occupy the positions of the Niswander and Lewis, with Cooper as substitute. Smith took care of the guard positions. Captain Horrell at center is really the only Bruin linesman that is playing up to the Bear standard. He is playing good ball and will no doubt continue to do so.

The ends need considerable improvement. "Snook" Mell is not playing the stellar game he played last year and will have to buck up to retain his position. Both Lowell Mell, his brother, and Huber, a sophomore, are giving him a little for his position. Thatcher at the other end is improving steadily and with a strengthened line will no doubt play good ball for the Bruins.

Andy Smith's backfield is showing improvement. Under Andy's coaching. It has been the redeeming factor of the Bruin team so far this season. The clever manner in which Dixon and Imlay worked the forward pass in the last few minutes of play, in the Olympic Club game, to score a touchdown and win the game, was a revelation to Andy Smith and the California supporters. Dixon's injured leg will no doubt be sufficiently better to allow him to play against the Washington State team. He is playing consistently now and is one of the cleverest backs in the conference. At the other half Brown most likely will be seen, while Scoop Carlson will call the signals. Young at fullback is just the sort of a man that Andy Smith was looking for at the beginning of the season. He is a wonderful line plunger and a reliable man for the Bruins when several yards on a buck are necessary. Little "Tut" Imlay will surely break in to all of California's contests. He is a valuable man to Andy when fast playing and thinking are necessary to win a game.

Although the Washington State gridders lost their first conference game to the Idaho Vandals 19-3, they will journey down to Berkeley in hopes of defeating the Golden Bear. It cannot be said how strong Coach Exendine's is, as the Vandals seem to have a strong eleven that may be capable of defeating California. However, Coach Exendine feels that his men will give the Bears a tussle for the honors, and Andy Smith doesn't doubt it, but is preparing his California to meet every onslaught of the Cougars.

Students Trim Profs On Diamond, 15 to 0

Wilson Intermediate athletes proved better than their instructors at the annual faculty ball game, Wednesday afternoon, when the students came out victorious with a score of 15-0. The victory was a big event in the history of the school.

Two hundred girls formed a rooting section of their own. Another rooting section, under the leadership of Kenneth McCombs, the newly elected cheer leader, roared for both teams. Women of the faculty formed a rooting section. Mrs. Margaret Struble, Miss Pearl Webster, assisted by Dorris Hanna and a corps of workers helped to swell the hands from the sale of candy. Richardson D. White, superintendent of Glendale city schools, was umpire. The lineup:

FACULTY
P. H. Bremer, C. W. Forrester, Vestel, C. F. Robson, Hanson, 1B, N. Girard, Dunn, 2B, D. Germaine, Wesner, 3B, W. Sherman, H. Lentz, SS, W. Feary, A. L. Bennett, RF, R. Shuck, Rickel, LF, E. Turner, Innes.

Swat King's Million Dollar Paw Now Okay

DUNSMUIR, Cal., Oct. 23.—Babe Ruth's million dollar paw, injured here when he caught his hand on a fish hook, was reported today only slightly hurt as he left for the South to continue his exhibition baseball games.

Ruth participated in a game following the injury, and a denial was issued that the Sultan of Swat had been seriously injured.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Frank Baker got his nickname of "Home Run Baker" because he batted two home runs in the world series of 1911. Another batter had done the same thing before him, and a half dozen or more have done it since, without getting any such title out of it.

Even three home runs in a world series does not earn such a title any more. Babe Ruth had batted three in a series prior to 1924, but it was not that feat that earned him the title of home run king. And this fall along comes young Mr. Goslin of Washington and slams out three without getting right and title to any fancy appellation.

Those three circuit blows, however, may be the beginning of the making of a swatter's reputation for Goslin. It is far from impossible that Goslin may step into Babe Ruth's shoes as home run king when Ruth loses his form. For Goslin certainly can nail the ball.

But the possibility of Goslin as a long distance hitter, however, does not rest solely on his three world series homers of 1924.

Glendale Midgets Win Tilt With Manual Arts

The Glendale high school 110-pound football team continued its winning streak in a game played here yesterday by defeating the Manual Arts high midgets, 29-0. As the visitors arrived late it was necessary to call the game at the end of the first half. So far the locals have gone without a defeat and Coach Wolfe hopes for another championship team this year.

He panted out twelve circuit smashes during the season. Of course, that was a long distance removed from Ruth's 46 But it must be remembered that Ruth did not count his homers by the two score in his early days.

Goslin must be reckoned upon as dangerous with the stick if he preserves his skill and condition. He has earning capacity as a batter for at least six years under normal conditions in baseball, and for him to tie Ruth's record in his first world series is certainly glory enough for a starter.

Another fact about Goslin's work in 1924 was his ability to score. Don't overlook the fact that he made 199 runs. Anybody who can bat below the top in the batting order and score 199 runs is a good ball player. Of course he must have help to do that, but first of all, he must get on first base himself.

BOWLING SCORES

The Glendale Tilers won two of the three games played last night at the Recreation alleys against the Pullman Cafe team. Both teams are in the Foothill league. Brehme of the winners rolled 225 for individual high score. The count:

Hoppe Leads Billiard Match With 85 Points

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Willie Hoppe will start today the third block of his 400-point three-cushion billiard match with Augie Kieckhefer, with a lead of eighty-five points. The balking champion made a high run of fourteen in yesterday's block of 40. The score at the end of two days' play: Hoppe, 200; Kieckhefer, 115.

Boxing NOTES

AT OAKLAND—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul, and Frankie Denny of Oakland boxed a draw, Jack Silver defeated Tommy Cello, California lightweight.

ANNIVERSARY RE-UNION IN HOME

Iowa Couple Observe Golden
Wedding at Residence
Of Otis R. Barnett

A happy feature of the visit of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Barnett of Bloomfield, Iowa, at the home of their son Otis R. Barnett of 334 West Broadway, was the celebration of their golden wedding yesterday. Mrs. O. R. Barnett, the hostess, arranged the dinner table in autumn colors with yellow chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece. Baskets of gladioli were used in the reception room. With the honored couple were Mrs. Barnett's brother, Dr. J. H. Senseney and wife and two daughters of Long Beach; their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Burgoyne and son William of Bloomfield, Iowa, who are guests at the Barnett home in Glendale; their son, Otis R. Barnett and wife, and Mrs. O. R. Barnett's brother, J. C. Slater of Glendale.

Dr. and Mrs. Senseney were present at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett fifty years ago in Bloomfield. Many gifts and countless messages were received during the day by the Barnetts. This is their second visit to Glendale and they are so delighted with Southern California in general and Glendale in particular that they hope to come here to live.

LIONS' CLUB IN NIGHT GATHERING

Special Meeting Is Planned
For Next Friday at Egyptian Village

In order to sign a sufficient number of members to secure a charter from international headquarters, the recently formed Glendale Lions Club will intensively solicit memberships during the next ten days. At the regular weekly luncheon meeting today, prospective candidates in the various classifications were assigned to a number of the members. Reports on the success attained by those will be made at the next meeting.

To stimulate enthusiasm and to effect more cordial relations between the Lions club members and their ladies, a special evening meeting will take place at the Egyptian Village Halloween evening, Friday, October 31. A committee has arrangements for the evening affair in hand.

It was decided at the meeting today to change the meeting day from Thursday noon to Wednesday noon at the same hour. This change will be given a trial with the option of changing again later if found desirable.

W. B. Kelly presided at the meeting today.

TERRITORY NORTH OF BURBANK SAFE

Area Not to Be Included in Proposed Annexation,
Official Is Told

Mayor J. C. Crawford of Burbank was assured by the members of the City Council of Glendale and City Manager Virgil B. Stone that Glendale would take no steps to annex the territory lying in Los Angeles county north of the Burbank city limits, and which includes the Sunset Country club. City attorney Ray L. Morrow was also present at the meeting.

This assurance was given Mayor Crawford at an informal luncheon held at the Harriett Mae Tea Room today noon. Recent announcement of the proposed annexation of territory in the Verdugo Hills, which would take in 12 square miles of land now lying outside of Glendale, had led the Burbank officials to believe the territory north of Burbank would be included in the area, Mayor Crawford said.

Advancement Association at Luncheon Talks Over
Improvements

The Glendale Advancement association met at luncheon at noon today at the Harriett Mae tea room; C. W. Ingledue presided and showed an artist's sketch of the hotel now building at East Broadway and Glendale avenue.

Mrs. M. L. Light reported on behalf of the sidewalk committee and the laying of additional walks was referred to her committee.

In speaking of the improving of different streets, Dr. Jessie Russell suggested that application be made for a portion of the state gasoline tax for the improvement of Verdugo road. Dr. Russell was appointed a committee to make this application.

Civic Center
The civic center question was discussed by A. W. Hewitt, secretary of the Lighter Boulevard improvement association, saying the Harvard school property was impractical in many ways; that a civic center not be located in the center of a city and cited San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton as cities where the civic center is located away from the business section. He also claimed planning commissions advocate civic centers some distance from the business center of a city.

R. W. Meeker, also a member of the Colorado boulevard organization, opposed the civic center and claimed it was only a political scheme.

Opposes Bonds
Herman Nelson, secretary of the Glendale Advancement association said the voting of the bonds would place a heavy burden on taxpayers and might get them up in arms so that a vote in annexation to Los Angeles would carry.

There was some mention made of a taxpayers protective association and Mr. Ingledue explained that such an organization is a probability, but would not be submitted to the association at this time. It was also voted to work in conjunction with the Colorado boulevard organization in the attempt to defeat the civic center bond issue.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked and faded. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

ROTARIANS SING GOOD OLD SONGS

Rev. L. H. Austin of Burbank
And John T. Cate Make Speeches at Club

"In Rotary we are reaching for the finest things in life," the Rev. Leon H. Austin of Burbank told the Glendale Rotary club today in an impromptu address which preceded a song service conducted by Roy L. Kent and assisting chorists.

Good old-fashioned songs, such as "Landon Bridge Is Falling Down," "The Streets of New York," "My Old Kentucky Home," "In the Good Old Summer time" and a score of others were sung by a quartet composed of J. A. Newton, A. R. Eastman, Val M. Hollister and F. W. Henry, with Mr. Kent leading the members in ensemble. Mr. Henry also favored with a solo and stories were told.

Poses as Toreador
John Cate in introducing the singers said, "I come to you as a Spanish athlete and I have thrown the animal off his feet" in facetious remarks. President J. Herbert Smith and the following visitors were more than pleased with the pleasant session: O. M. Hunter, McKeesport, Pa.; Joseph H. Barden, Palo Alto, Calif.; L. R. Tanner, Brainerd, Minn.; S. J. McQueen, Monrovia; W. C. Wickenden, San Luis Obispo; Sebald Cheroske and Theodore Schleuter, Los Angeles; Rev. W. H. Austin, J. J. King and Andy Fillbach, Burbank.

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—A lone burglar broke through a skylight of a jewelry store at San Luis Obispo early today, lowered himself to the floor with a rope and looted the place of jewelry and precious gems valued at $12,500, according to reports received at the sheriff's office here. The burglar is believed to have fled toward Los Angeles. The San Luis Obispo officials found a piece of wrapping paper on the roof and discovered that the burglar had purchased a rope at a small store in Arroyo Grande, several miles away. The storekeeper furnished an excellent description of the suspect.

Police today conducted a search for a mysterious will which is believed to have been the cause of murder and suicide of an aged couple last night. Neighbors reported that Gustave Egli, 80, a French-Canadian, shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Leontine Egli, 72, and then fired a bullet into his brain as the result of a quarrel over the will. The argument is said to have arisen over the distribution of property valued at several thousand dollars, among their several children.

VALUE OF TRADE TO CITY TRAGED

"Dollar Bill" Is Featured at
Chamber of Commerce
Luncheon Today

The importance of spending money in Glendale was emphasized at the weekly meeting of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Masonic Temple today noon. George Orgibet, a member of the permanent committee in charge of arrangements, presided.

By a novel method of passing a dollar bill around as each person introduced himself, Chairman Orgibet announced that the travel of the dollar bill represented a profit of 560 per cent, and the original dollar bill was returned to the chairman.

Mr. Orgibet said that what Glendale needed was a civic awakening and an increase in civic activities. He urged every citizen to take a pilgrimage to the hills and look down upon Glendale to see what a real city looked like.

Informal Talks
Mr. Orgibet called upon various persons present to talk on the need of spending money here. C. J. Hatz, president of the Glendale Merchants association, told of checking up a Los Angeles department store deliveries for one day and found twenty-seven deliveries were made here. R. F. Kitterman, manager of the Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank, urged residents to promote local enterprises.

A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, said it had been his policy to buy everything needed in Glendale, even ordering goods and materials not carried in stock in the city, through some local concern. This policy has been and will continue to be preached through the medium of advertising, he said, and if carried out, each person would render unlimited service to the city.

Aids Valuation
Valuation of property in Glendale depends upon the amount of trade here, Frank Fox said. James Webb, of the Glendale Hardware Co., 601 East Broadway, said his motto had always been "Live and buy in Glendale."

Other speakers on the matter of buying in Glendale included Frank Pilling, J. H. Daugherty, H. P. Coker, Olie Anderson, Dan Campbell, Dr. E. C. Ellanger, D. H. Smith and George Karr.

J. Arthur Myers, who led the community singing, with Mike Kaufman at the piano, announced a concert would be given November 3, by the Symphony orchestra and Choral club. Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told about the new Southern Pacific train to be on exhibit here next Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Valentine de Hancy of Hollywood, is the owner of the property. The deal was closed by Alfred R. Johnson of the Suburban Realty Co., 508 South Brand boulevard and H. S. Burn, realtor of 108 North Maryland avenue.

The property is 50x120 feet to the alley and is bounded by an alley on the north and west sides. The property now is vacant. Mr. Shirer's purchase of the lease was in anticipation of the proposed civic center going through.

Mr. Johnson of the Suburban Realty Co., reports a number of sales have been made in the past two or three weeks and that real estate business is active. He states that there are more calls for homes than in previous years.

Mrs. Charles Dewey of Redlands underwent a major operation at the Glendale sanitarium this morning.

Mrs. Doheny Tells of Finding Missing Paper

that she brought it to Los Angeles. Doheny retained the other portion of the note bearing the amount of the principal which depicts the loan of the $100,000. Later, under further questioning from Pomerene, Mrs. Doheny quoted her husband as stating at the time the note was torn:

"If anything happens to us they will not find the whole note and it will not become a part of the estate."

Mrs. Doheny then related how she came to Los Angeles and placed the note in a safety deposit box. As the months went on, she said, she forgot all about the incident.

When the Senate investigating committee started the investigation into the naval oil reserve land leases, she declared she made a search for the document but could not find it. Later, after the investigation, she went to the safety deposit box and found it there after several hours' scanning of its contents.
